ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The Executive Council and the Record Committee wish to express their appreciation of the co-operation and assistance given to the Secretary in the preparation of this volume by many other Kaps, particularly Raymond C. Donnan, C.C. '03, whose researches furnished a vast amount of biographical data of early Union Kaps, previously lacking, and Talcott M. Banks, C.G. '90, Allan W. Burleson, C.H. '35, Sherman Peer, V.C. '06, Alexander E. MacDonald, V.T. '16, Wilson D.S. Morden, V.T. '34, William L. Estes, Jr., V.L. '05, R. Donald Taylor, V.M. '23, and Charles J. Cole, V.P. '09. Our warm thanks are also due to Mrs. Marion Christie Hager, whose conscientious and capable help has been invaluable to the Secretary in the compilation of this edition of the Record.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

In the biographical sketches in this book, names will infrequently be found in parentheses. This indicates, particularly in the case of early members of the Union Chapter, a variation in the name as shown in the Chapter and college records, as "Augustus Anson Boyce (Boies)."

Every possible effort has been made to obtain and include in their sketches the rank, unit and permanent mailing address of those Canadian Kaps who are now on active war service. The same data is given in the sketches of other Kaps who are known to be in active service of the United States forces. The Secretary of the Executive Council will appreciate being advised of promotions and changes in service and would like to be notified of other Kaps who enter service from time to time.

Possibly some errors appear in the individual sketches, which the Secretary would also like to be advised of, as well as changes in occupation, and business and residence addresses as they occur.

FOREWORD

The last edition of the Kappa Alpha Record came into preparation shortly after the Society's great Centennial Anniversary Celebration on November 6th, 7th and 8th, 1925, and naturally, therefore, was issued as a memorial to that epochal event. It was published a year later in November, 1926.

Fifteen years have elapsed since the publication of the last Record. If it could be said that your Executive Council has a policy in regard to the periodicity of the Record, it would be to publish a new edition every ten years. In the ten years following the last Record, for instance, a total of 655 initiates had been admitted into the privileges and mysteries of Kappa Alpha and formed about 30 per cent of the then living membership of the Society. And within that ten years, important changes of occupation and address had been made by a substantial majority of all the other Kaps whose histories had graced the 1926 Record.

So that now, fifteen years after the publication of the last Record, there are 1021 Kaps, nearly 42 per cent of our living membership, whose historical data has not been recorded in this our Kap biographical encyclopedia. This does not include this year's pledges of the Cornell and Pennsylvania Chapters who will be initiated after this book is published.

The authorization for the gathering of the material for this volume was given by the Executive Council to the Committee charged with its preparation and publication in the summer of 1939. If, at that time, we of the Council had foreseen the terrific intensity, ferocity and scope that the war then just starting was to develop, or the fearful issues that were to be involved, we most assuredly would not have put in motion the labors and expensive processes of collection and collation of data incident to the compilation of more than 2400 different biographical sketches of living Kaps from as many different individual sources.

However, at the time this is being written, in February, 1941, there has clearly emerged a compelling justification for the publication now of an up-to-date historical and biographical record of the Society, for Kappa Alpha is an international fraternal organization, and it is fast becoming evident that not only twenty-five per cent of our membership, but our entire membership soon will be very much involved in the operations, the issues and the outcome of the war, and in the peace and the world relations that will follow the war.

ANDREW G. L. McNAUGHTON, V.M. '10
Lieutenant General, Canadian Army

Kappa Alpha in the United States has always been proud of its Canadian relationship, proud of having Chapters in two great universities of that adjoining and neighborly country, and proud of the high quality of the membership of these two Canadian chapters. We believe that there never has been any thought—or any desire—among Kaps on either side of the border that the intimate fraternal relations resulting from the inter-country membership of the Society would have the effect of making our Canadian members any less stoutly British in their national and economic outlook. But it has been a source of gratification to the Society as a whole that this social and spiritual comradeship would have some part in developing and maintaining the mutual respect and confidence that the two countries have for each other.

And now this 1940 edition of the Kappa Alpha Record goes to our members at the moment when the necessity for a much more close relationship between the United States and not only Canada but the whole British Commonwealth of Nations is being widely discussed. And it is already becoming evident that if the British Commonwealth of Nations and the United States of America do not, at the close of the war, co-operate in the reorganization and reconstruction of ruined Europe, such reorganization and reconstruction, in terms of political and economic liberty and co-operation, will not take place. Interrelationship, thus, of transcending importance and of immense difficulty, lies ahead for the mother countries of the members of our Kap brotherhood. The personal respect and affection that exists within our small band of educated men, the unity of our ideals and activities within Kappa Alpha, are now and will continue to be, in the tense times ahead, one focus for understanding and good will between our peoples.

It is with great pride that the Executive Council dedicates this edition of the Record jointly to our distinguished Kap Patriarch, Judge Frank Harris Hiscock, V.C. '75, a great citizen of the United States, and to the two great Canadian leaders of the day, William Lyon Mackenzie King, V.T. '95, Prime Minister of Canada, and Andrew George Latta McNaughton, V.M. '10, Lieutenant General now in command of the Canadian forces in Great Britain.

History and Former Officers of The Executive Council

The decision to institute the Executive Council as the governing body of the Society was made at a convention held in New York City on January 4, 1882, at which meeting the original Articles of Organization of the Council were adopted. Officers were not elected at this meeting, however, because ratification of the Articles of Organization by the then existing four chapters was required. This action was subsequently taken, and the first annual meeting of the Council was held in New York on January 3, 1884, at which meeting Clarence Beebe, V.C. '73, was elected president, Samuel T. Benedict, C.C. '60, was elected vice-president, Howard H. Burden, C.G. '78, was elected secretary, and Libertus M. Van Bokkelen, C.H. '84, was elected treasurer.

The Council is the governing body of the Society. Its objects are generally to supervise and regulate the Society's affairs, and its powers are of a comprehensive nature relating to the welfare of the Kappa Alpha as a whole. Each chapter is represented on the Council by two members and two alternates, elected by the chapters themselves, and the Council elects its own officers.

The Kappa Alpha Society Foundation, Inc., incorporated under the laws of the State of New York in 1925, holds and administers the Endowment Fund of the Society. Its object is to render financial assistance to the chapters and their alumni organizations. Its officers and trustees are the same as the officers and members and alternates of the Executive Council.

The officers of the Executive Council since its inception have been the following:

President

1884-'85 Clarence Beebe, V.C. '73	1910-'19 Robert G. Mead, C.G. '93
1886 James S. Knowlson, C.G. '43	1920-'25 Alexander B. Trowbridge, V.C. '90

The Original Kap Key

This Key, or medal as it was originally called, belonged to Charles Curtis Noble, C.C. 1828, who was initiated on May 26th, 1827. At the meeting of the Society on June 23rd following, it was determined to adopt an emblem; on June 29th a committee of three was appointed "to devise a plan of a medal;" and on July 9th, 1827, "the device for a medal . . . was approved of and Joseph Law was ordered to proceed to Albany and order the medals to be constructed." Thus this Key of Charles Curtis Noble is one of the original lot of Kap Keys made in July, 1827.

The Noble Medal has an interesting history. Mr. Noble lived in Owego, N. Y., was a County Judge, a member of the New York State Legislature and a Supreme Court Commissioner. He died in Owego on June 14th, 1851. Seventeen years later, in 1868, his nephew, Aaron Putnam Storrs, who also lived in Owego, became one of the two founders of the Cornell Chapter. He then, presumably, came into possession of his uncle's old Kap Key, the one here illustrated in exact size.

In the summer of 1930, shortly before his death on December 22nd, 1930, Mr. Storrs gave his uncle's Key to John Morgan Francis, Jr., V.C. 1927, to present to the Society. It is now in the possession of the Executive Council, carefully safeguarded, not only as one of the first lot of Kap Keys to be made but as the oldest emblem of all existing Greek Letter College Fraternities.

The Patriarch's Key

The Patriarch's Key owes its origin to the interest aroused at the celebration of the 75th Anniversary of the founding of the Society held at Schenectady, November 26, 1900, by the reading of letters from the then oldest living Kap, Horace Orlando Moss, C.C. '28. Shortly thereafter, on December 28, Charles Hamilton McKnight, C.H. '87, as the official representative of the Society, visited Mr. Moss at his home in New Berlin, N. Y. At the Annual Dinner in New York on January 3, 1901, Mr. McKnight reported upon this visit. It was then decided that a new Key be made and presented to Mr. Moss in recognition of his being the oldest living Kap and because he had some years previously turned over his original Key, received when he was initiated, to the Society as the property of the Union Chapter. It was later decided to have this Key known as the "Patriarch's Key," to be so inscribed and to be bestowed upon and worn by the oldest living Kap in perpetual succession.

The Key was then made but, unfortunately, before it could be presented to Mr. Moss, he passed away at his home on March 2, 1901. The first actual holder of the Patriarch's Key was Anson Augustus Boyce, C.C. '32, who held it for over eight years until he died in 1909.

The Key is contained in a red leather case, within which is a gold plate on which are inscribed the names of the successive Patriarchs of the Society, with the dates of the period that the Key has been held by each Patriarch.

The following venerable Kaps have been the holders of this Patriarch's Key:

Horace Orlando Moss, C.C. '28
Anson Augustus Boyce, C.C. '32
Thomas Wright, C.G. '35
Salmon Aretus Phelps, C.C. '38
William Porter, C.G. '39
Thaddeus Selby Newell, C.H. '45
Jeremiah Evarts Walton, C.G. '53
Charles Frederic Chandler, C.C. '56
Samuel Tweedy Benedict, C.C. '60
Amasa Junius Parker, C.C. '63
Charles Bulkley Hubbell, C.G. '74
Frank Harris Hiscock, V.C. '75

In The Beginning

By FISHER HOWE, C.G. '72

(Written for the 1925 edition of the Kappa Alpha Record)

"What brings us thronging these high rites to pay,
And seal these hours the noblest of our year,
Save that our brothers found this better way."

Commemoration Ode

In a time-battered blank-book, cherished with filial affection within the precincts of Union College, is this entry:

"Minutes of the Proceedings of The Kappa Alpha Society, commencing the 26th day of November, in the year 1825."

The attendants at this primal meeting of the novel Society were nine Union College students, seven of them Seniors, in the class of 1826, two Juniors of the class of 1827:

John Hart Hunter, '26

John McGeoch, '26

Isaac W. Jackson, '26

Thomas Hun, '26

Orlando Meads, '26

James Proudfit, '26

James A. Constant, '26

Arthur Burtis, Jr., '27

Joseph Law, '27

As many times before, so then, history was being made unaware. The proceedings of that eventful evening were the genesis of the Greek letter fraternity system in American colleges. Now, one hundred years later, "College Fraternities have 600,000 members; 60,000 students live in fraternity houses; about $24,000,000 are invested in chapter homes of societies represented in 675 colleges."<sup>1</sup>

During the first half of the nineteenth century Union College was the rival in prestige and in number of students of both Yale and Harvard, and time has attested the exceedingly high quality of those Union students. The magnet attracting such young men, from regions remote as well as adjacent, was Eliphalet Nott, the College President. "Men came from other colleges to pass their senior year and receive the instruction of Dr. Nott. The government of the college was administered by him. No case of discipline was entrusted to the professors. His government was parental. By kindness he was able to guide the most wayward and refractory."<sup>1</sup> Conspicuous in 1825 for leadership of the two hundred and more students were John Hart Hunter, Isaac Wilber Jackson, Thomas Hun, classmates in 1826, and Arthur Burtis, Jr., of the class of 1827 and chum of Hunter. Between the four friendship had deepened into comradeship.

To the imaginative mind of John Hunter came a vision of a new type of student association; his revelation to the three comrades met a sympathetic response. Five others of the upper classes were admitted to the inner circle. Conferences led to maturity of plan. The historic meeting of November 26th, 1825, was held in the room shared by Hunter and Burtis in South College. By simple ceremonies a rude college room was transformed into a shrine.

Conditions have been suggested as influential in the promotion of this new alliance. Disruption of a military corps invited new direction for student activities; the atmosphere of Phi Beta Kappa, strictly academic, stimulated in the imagination the dream of new and more intimate relationships. To these collegiate associations almost everyone of the nine comrades belonged.

The yearning of the unsatisfied was for fellowship of kindred souls, and its expression in organization.

On December 3, 1826, Charles Clark Young, Andrew E. B. Knox and Solon Grout, each of the class of 1826, signed the Constitution; "and on December 10, Levi Hubbell, '27, was initiated, after which we adjourned to the domicile of Ephraim Fisk and partook of a most philosophical repast."

With a membership made twelve by the early withdrawal from college of McGeoch, an initiation fee fixed at one dollar, and monthly meetings followed by practical discussions about the table of "Mr. Fisk," the winter of 1826 was passed.

Spring brought these young men face to face with a serious situation: the certain loss by graduation of eight of their little group and these the stalwart founders. Without any rival in the field they selected new associates. With prescience which today seems uncanny in men so youthful, their choice of those to "carry on" included Amos Dean, '26, Rufus W. Peckham, John F. Townsend, Preston King and Leonard Woods, Jr., of the class of '27, and Charles Curtis Noble, '28.

These history-makers were followed in swift succession by Ward Hunt, George Chandler, William H. Van Schoonhoven, Sidney T. Fairchild, Henry Hull Martin, Leander Babcock, Augustus Schell, Wells S. Hammond, Charles E. West, Edward D. G. Prime and Thomas Allen—names illustrious in various fields of beneficent activity. By them and others like unto them the stability of Kappa Alpha was assured.

The year 1827 is memorable in the history of the Greek letter fraternity system; for then two societies, similar in general structure to Kappa Alpha, denominated Sigma Phi and Delta Phi, were formed. These were followed in 1833 by Psi Upsilon.

So did Union College become "The Birthplace of College Secret Societies."

Opposition to the Secret Society

Those early years were a period of ordeal for Kappa Alpha, in part because of the intense rivalry of the new societies, still more because of the wide-spread hostility to the principle represented. "The Anti-Masonic War" then swayed social and political issues. The term "secret," bestowed at nativity upon the Greek letter fraternity system, has been for it the source of woes unnumbered. Measures repressive and oppressive were adopted by the college faculty. The majority of the students waged bitter war upon their associates who were enrolled in societies "secret" and exclusive.

The manuscript "History of Kappa Alpha," recorded during his college course by Judge James Cosslett Smith, C.C. '35, reveals a critical period for "the System" at Union College: "In consequence of the prohibition which has been published in the College laws, Kaps determined to lay aside their badges for the present . . . and to assume a more impenetrable veil of secrecy than before while engaged in electing and initiating members. . . . The result was such as might have been foretold. The Governors of the College saw that their efforts were fruitless. No one was expelled from college and no one was driven from his allegiance to Kappa Alpha. Anti-secret opposition dwindled away."

Thereafter Kappa Alpha in C.C. was never seriously molested.

Union College lived up to its Sigillum: "In Necessariis Unitas: in Dubiis Libertas: in Omnibus Caritas."

Contemporary descriptions of the primeval days of Kappa Alpha are, alas, few and meagre. Delightful pen-pictures of informal Kap meetings, "enlivened with mirth and wit and merry song," when "the pipe, after our feast, sent forth its philosophic fumes," are preserved for us in a letter written in 1864 by Arthur Burtis, '27, and familiar by frequent quotation. A "Narrative of the Origins of Kappa Alpha," written in 1883 by Charles Clark Young, '26, has passed into the literature of Kappa Alpha, also of the Greek letter fraternity system. It is a precious document, but, based upon Mr. Young's memory of almost three score years, it is not in complete accord with the official record of the first meeting of Kappa Alpha.

A Catalogue, replete with symbolic information prized today, was printed in 1830. It is of special interest, also, as being the first Catalogue of a Greek letter fraternity. This was followed promptly by another, issued in 1832,—the beginning of a long sequence.

The Society Takes Form

Kappa Alpha was a creation, not a thing of resolves and amendments. With truth it has been said: "The first group of Kappa Alpha men at Union stamped a character upon the Society which it has never lost. The founders possessed an aptitude for their work amounting to genius, and but slight additions have been made to the ceremonial features of the order."

At the first meeting, November 26, 1825, John Hunter presided, and submitted a Preamble to the Constitution wherein were declared "The Objects of this Society." After ten decades we may join in the hilarity which induced Thomas Hun to record this incident upon the minutes: "Brother Orlando Meads was appointed by the Chair to read the Preamble, but, owing to his mental imbecility he was unable to decipher the characters used by the Chairman as signs of his ideas. The duty of reading, therefore, devolved upon the Chair himself." Excogitated from the brain of John Hunter, this Preamble is, and for all time will be, the delight of Kaps.

Details of procedure laid down in the Constitution, adopted at the second meeting, continue in force to this day. "Fellowship of kindred souls," the basic thought of 1825, continues to be the cardinal article in the creed of 1925.

Even the cherished songs of our ritual are archaic. In gratitude let us recall their authors, and name them among our benefactors.

On the evening of "March 4, 1826, the Ode prepared for the occasion by Levi Hubbell, '27, was sung by the assembly." So reads the contemporary record. The "Ode" was our glorious Dinner Song. Therein was enunciated the law controlling, from that day, Kap academic banquets:

"Then let us banish hence the bowl,
For Bacchus hath no part
Where wit and feasting rule the soul
And Friendship warms the heart."

John Hunter, much given to verse writing, was author of "All the Powers." Amos Dean, '27, contributed the "Mandate." The "Parting" song, so precious to generations of Kaps, is our heritage from Thomas Jefferson Farnham, '32. We owe our stately anthem for assembly to Daniel Washburn, C.C. '45. The C.G. Chapter contributed "The Chains," by Hasbrouck Davis, '45; also the dirge "Qui fuerunt sed nunc ad Astra," written by Theodore H. Simmons, '96, and within recent years adopted as a permanent part of our ritual.

Origin of the Kap Key

Very early in its career Kappa Alpha adopted as its visible insignia a gold medal—a square disc pendant from one angle. The design was offered by a committee of whom Arthur Burtis, '27, was one. The badge worn by Arthur Burtis, '27, altered by modern addition of a barrel, is within the lodge of C.C. The present scribe has clear memory of chance meetings, more than fifty years ago, with Peter Clark, '27, still wearing the K. A. badge of his college days. Soon after the establishment of the Williams Chapter in 1833, a suggestion made by Nathaniel H. Griffin, a charter member of C.G., that a barrel be affixed to the medal was adopted by the Society. So the Kap Key was formed.

To the college Kappa Alpha has proved itself an asset. To its alumni it is a source of pride and joy immeasurable. Its "whole history shows that it desires nothing more than it does the prosperity of the college in which is its home, the promotion of good scholarship and literary excellence, and the furtherance of college morality and good order."

Union College

The history of the Union Chapter begins with the founding of Kappa Alpha. The first date of which we have definite knowledge is November 26, 1825. Before that existed the genial companionship of the founders, who found in their amity and social intercourse, cultivated with pipe and song, the inspiration for a fixed form of friendly union, over which should be thrown the mantle of delicious secrecy. They gathered in the rooms of Isaac W. Jackson and Thomas Hun to swell their voices in song, or for the exchanges of conversation and wit, until out of their warm and flowing fellowship came the idea of Kappa Alpha.

We can readily imagine the enthusiasm that greeted the first broaching of the proposal and the ardor with which the originators of the plan fell about their jovial task. They were equipped with gifts for the occasion which have provoked the admiration of their successors for one hundred years. The immediate success of the Society, its swift spread to other colleges, and the fleet steps with which imitation followed after it, attest the glorious combination of talents which found expression in the founders of K.A.

They met together in John Hart Hunter's room on the night of November 26, 1825. It was the spacious chamber still to be found on the fourth floor of the old South College, South Section, on the campus at Schenectady. The initial meeting of Kappa Alpha was held there and then. Shortly after that the first formal initiation was held and three other privileged undergraduates became members of the Society. The ritual was gradually taking form and the Key was selected as the badge by which Kaps were to be known.

As the members grew in numbers they moved into Philomathean Hall, across the corridor from Hunter's room, and held their meetings there. Probably the various places in which the Union Chapter had its tenement during the nineteenth century can never be correctly listed in chronological order. Meetings were held in such quarters as the Chapter could obtain from year to year, and the bounty of Schenectady boarding houses was requisitioned for the suppers which enlivened the lighter part of the Society's gatherings. In the course of time North College became Kap headquarters, where Captain Jackson, then a faculty member, had his home in North Section. Finally the Chapter gave up holding its sessions in college buildings and repaired to the more inviting precincts of the town, where greater privacy could be enjoyed. About 1867 the movable shrine was located back of Givens Hotel, which was popular with Union alumni as headquarters at Commencement time. During the College year 1877-78 an abode was taken up over the old Schenectady post office on Wall Street, and it remained there until the first lodge was built in 1901.

The Chapter's first home on the campus stood barely ten years before its limitations began to be severely felt. A building committee was appointed to collect subscriptions for a new chapter house. By a generous legacy and such contributions as the committee could obtain a building fund was started. It was agreed that an architectural plan should be adopted in keeping with the Jeffersonian style of the old Union College buildings. Then the World War came on. In the spring of 1917 the membership of the active Chapter dwindled rapidly as undergraduates enlisted in the armed forces of the United States. By Commencement, 1918, it was apparent that only one member of the Chapter would return to college the following fall. During the summer he too enlisted in the army, and suffered an untimely death from disease. In the fall of 1918 all plans for the new lodge had of course been dropped, the whole effort of the alumni being given to tiding the Chapter over the period of hostilities and saving its rank from utter depletion. They were fortunately successful in pledging several freshmen who were initiated amidst the tour of military duties engrossing the attention of the undergraduates, all of whom were members of the student training corps, in October, 1918. After the armistice the former members of the active Chapter returned to college as rapidly as they were discharged from service. By the spring of 1919 the Union Chapter was happily restored to its normal condition.

A large number of Union Kaps served in the war, in divers branches of the service, most of them with commissions, and not a few seeing duty overseas. Between thirty and thirty-five undergraduates and alumni were with the colors. Their ranks ranged from lieutenant colonel and major to private. Two of them were chaplains, one in the navy and one in the army. Aside from this contribution to the fighting forces, the American Red Cross Commissioner to Roumania during the war was a Union Kap, Dr. Roger G. Perkins, and another member of the chapter, John C. Pennie, was a member of the American Peace Commission at Versailles.

After the war the building committee was reorganized and resumed its labors with fresh determination. By the spring of 1924 sufficient funds had been collected and promised to warrant immediate construction. It was at first thought that the college trustees would require the Society to vacate the plot of ground on which the first lodge stood, between the electrical laboratory and the engineering building, with Captain Jackson's garden in the rear. Thanks to the diligent effort of several alumni it became unnecessary to give up this spot which had become endeared to Union Kaps during the quarter of a century they had occupied it. Building the new lodge began in the summer of 1924 and it was ready for occupancy that fall. The first initiation was held in it in February, 1925. In exterior architectural design it harmonizes with the older college buildings, the work of the French architect, Jacques Rameé.

The Union Chapter of Kappa Alpha has contributed more to the college than any other fraternity. The Union Alma Mater was written by a Kap, Fitzhugh Ludlow, who was also the author of the Terrace Song, most popular of undergraduate ditties at Union. Captain Jackson, one of the founders, created the college garden, named for him, and declared to be one of the most enchanting realms of tree and flower, distinguished by numerous specimens of rare plants. The late Silas B. Brownell, for many years the toastmaster at Kap dinners in New York, served the college a long time as Trustee and Chairman of the Board. Four other Union Kaps have also been trustees of the college, and one of Union's presidents was Eliphalet Nott Potter, C.C. '61. In addition to these distinguished sons of K.A. in C.C. there is a considerable list of Union Kaps who have become renowned in education, the ministry, law, medicine, art, government, engineering, and in the army and navy. And the catalogue will show a very respectable number who have lived up to the tradition of the founders in the field of scholarship and attained the Phi Beta Kappa key, while in later years many have been awarded the Sigma Xi key for honors in engineering.

The Anniversaries of the founding of Kappa Alpha at Union College have been duly observed at Schenectady in 1851, 1875, 1900, and 1925. The Centennial Anniversary on November 6, 7 and 8, 1925, was an inspiring and never-to-be-forgotten occasion, when nearly five hundred Kaps, their wives and children, and many specially invited guests gathered in celebration and to honor the nine founders of Kappa Alpha, the oldest member and the acknowledged parent of the present vast college social fraternity system.

Kappa Alpha Lodge, Williams College

History of Kappa Alpha

Williams College

Joseph White of the Williams class of 1836, long Treasurer of Williams College and an eminent citizen of commonwealth and town, once told a story accounting for the coming of The Kappa Alpha Society to the Berkshire institution which has been handed down for the instruction (or amusement) of posterity, but which cannot be found in the existing archives of the Society. Mr. White, who was himself among the earliest members of Kappa Alpha at Williams, averred that in the year 1833 a group of undergraduates from Williamstown journeyed to Schenectady, N. Y., the seat of Union College, for the purpose of obtaining a charter of Phi Beta Kappa from the Union Chapter of that order. Finding this impracticable, owing to the fact that chapters of Phi Beta Kappa had power to grant charters only within the limits of their own state, the boys came back to Williamstown bringing with them a charter from Kappa Alpha, and satisfied the curiosity of President Edward Dorr Griffin by exhibiting a medal with a "kappa" on it, which Dr. Griffin thought must be "all right." Giving this somewhat apocryphal (though not entirely unsupported) tale the credence it deserves, it is a matter of record that the first branch of the oldest Greek Letter fraternity in the country (not counting Phi Beta Kappa) was established at Williams in 1833, being the first comer on this ground, where fraternities have flourished ever since.

The leader of this group of Williams men who became the charter members of the Williams Chapter of Kappa Alpha was Azariah S. Clark of Canaan, N. Y., of the class of 1834, a young man whose unusual gifts of intellect and personality had gathered about him a circle of intimate and devoted friends. In the fall of 1833, after the securing of the charter, Mr. Clark and Alexander Hyde of Lee, Mass., proceeded to Schenectady for initiation, and on their return organized the new Chapter, most of whose charter members, it appears, were not given a formal introduction to the "mysteries" of the Society. These original members were, besides Clark and Hyde, the following: James Dixon, '34, of Enfield, Conn., James Maltby Sayre, '34, of Catskill, N. Y., George Hamilton Norris, '34, of New York, Thomas Wright, '35, of Bennington, Vt., James Homer Ellis, '35, of New Salem, Mass., Lewis Morris Rutherford, '34, of Morrisania, N. Y., Nathaniel Herrick Griffin, '34, of Southampton, N. Y., Lucius Quintus Curtis, '35, of Torrington, Conn., Jesse Olds Norton, '35, of Bennington, Vt., David Jewett Waller, '34, of Bloomsburg, Pa., Thompson Kidder, '36, of Medford, Mass., and Samuel Darrow, '35, of Hebron, N. Y. Several of these men attained distinction in later life, notably Dixon, of Connecticut, who served in Congress four years as a member of the House of Representatives and twelve years as Senator. Rutherford became an astronomer of wide reputation, and Griffin gave long and devoted service to Williams College as a teacher of ancient languages.

"The Society's outward beginnings (to quote from an earlier historian) were sufficiently humble, its meetings being held at first in the various members' rooms." Then for a time the brethren assembled in the attic of the old Mansion House (on the site later occupied by the Greylock Hotel), whence they transferred their headquarters to the old Meacham house on Water Street, which sheltered the Society for a period of forty years. Here, through the kindly interest of James Meacham and his good wife, Almira, always known in Kappa Alpha as "Pater and Mater Meacham," the Kaps enjoyed the use of the wing of the old house, the upper floor being used for meetings and the lower for "philosophicals" famous in the annals of the Society. It was in these quarters that the Kaps withstood vi et armis an attack by members of the Anti-Secret Confederation, then known as the "Oudens" (from the first word of its Greek motto, meaning "nothing secret"), which organization later became the parent chapter of the Delta Upsilon "non-secret" fraternity.

As the years passed, and circumstances rendered a continuance of the Meacham house arrangement impracticable, the Society felt the need of a home of its own, and in 1864 was fortunately able to purchase a very desirable lot and dwelling house (known as the Taft cottage) at the corner of Main and North Streets, which they had held under lease for some time. However, the old quarters continued in use for Society meetings for a number of years.

The "Taft cottage" was supplanted by an attractive lodge building erected on the same site in 1877, which served the Society as a home for thirty years. This frame and brick structure, of modest dimensions, was called at the time of its erection the finest fraternity home in the country; present fraternity architecture is on a more elaborate scale.

In 1907 the growing size of the Chapter, together with the deterioration of the structure built in 1877, called for the consideration of a new home. Plans for a house were drawn and ready for acceptance, when an opportunity arose for the purchase of the estate of Harley T. Procter, immediately adjoining the Society's property, and comprising a beautiful colonial mansion and a considerable acreage commanding wide mountain views. The Society decided to buy the estate, the financing of the purchase being made easy by the generosity of Charles T. Barney of the class of 1870, and occupied its new home in the fall of 1907. The old lodge, after being used for some years for the Society's meetings, was torn down.

The colonial mansion, which is the present home of Kappa Alpha at Williams, from the first proved itself well adapted for a society home. But few changes have been made in it, the most notable being the library and study room equipped by the Brown family of Portland, Maine, as a memorial to Montague Brown, '07. This room contains a complete collection of reference books, selected by a committee of Kap faculty members, and designed for use in connection with the college courses of study. The beautiful lodge room wherein are preserved several adornments of older "temples," is another feature of the Society's present home.

The entrance of our country into the Great War, in the spring of 1917, brought new experiences to the college lads of the quiet Berkshire valley. Voluntary enlistment in the ambulance and other services cut down the size of the Williams Chapter of Kappa Alpha, before college closed in June, to 16 men, and of these only 11 returned in the fall. This number was doubled by the pledging of an unusually strong group of freshmen, placing the Society on a firm footing. Then came the coal shortage of the winter of 1917-'18, during which the Kaps, being fortunately possessed of plenty of coal, played host to the Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi, the Alpha Delta upperclassmen rooming in the Kap house, and the entire membership of both societies eating there. This episode of Williams fraternity life deserves to be remembered.

The fall of 1918 witnessed the taking over of Williams (and all other colleges) by the Government, and our campus became a military training ground, all fraternity life and other social activities being suspended. It was not until January 10, 1919, that the college reopened on its normal basis, ending the first interruption in the many years of our Society's peaceful life at Williams.

The record of Williams Kaps in the war was highly honorable. Figures compiled as of December 1, 1918, showed that 88 members of the Chapter had been engaged in the combatant service, 9 enlisted in training camps, and 9 in the non-combatant services of various kinds. Four laid down their lives—David Everett Wheeler, '94, of the Medical Corps, mortally wounded while helping the wounded under fire; James Burch Murray, '08, stricken with disease while in the aircraft production service in this country; William Bradford Turner, '14, killed at the head of his company in one of the most brilliant and desperate exploits of the war, and given the posthumous reward of the Congressional Medal of Honor; and Alexander Thomson Burr, '17, incomparable athlete, lost in an airplane collision in France. At Commencement in June, 1920, a beautiful tablet of bronze, bearing the names of these four Williams men, was unveiled in the Kap lodge with appropriate ceremonies.

As the notable anniversaries in the Chapter's long history have occurred, they have been celebrated by appropriate exercises. At the semicentennial, in 1883, a public oration was delivered by Governor Henry M. Hoyt, of Pennsylvania, a Williams Kap of the class of 1849. The occasion of the 75th anniversary, in 1908, brought together the largest Kap assembly seen up to that time in Williamstown; the literary exercises were held in the dining room of the old lodge building. In 1933 came the crowning anniversary of the Chapter, at the completion of one hundred years of continuous and successful life. All records for Kap gatherings in Williamstown were broken on this occasion. The secret meeting, held in the local "opera house," was regaled by a Chapter history delivered by Talcott M. Banks, '90, an oration by James P. Baxter, 3rd, '14, and a poem by Arthur Ketchum, '98. At the banquet, held in the Greylock Hotel, over 300 Kaps and members of their families were present.

A pleasant and memorable incident in the life of the Chapter was the dedication, in June, 1916, of a memorial erected by the Society on its grounds to mark the site of the old West Hoosac Fort, built by the early settlers as a refuge against the Indians in the days of the Colonial Wars. The granite boulder, set on the spot once occupied by the blockhouse, bears a bronze tablet telling the story of the fort, and of the Indian attack made in 1756, when three of the settlers were slain. At the public exercises of dedication held at the lodge, the historical address was delivered by John H. Lockwood of the class of 1868.

That earlier historian of the Chapter who has been previously quoted in this article attributed the origin of our Society at Williams to "the desire for a circle of intimate friends, so natural to those who find themselves transferred from home relations to the companionship of a large gathering of general acquaintances." This is a fair explanation, not only of the beginning, but of the successful continuance of Kappa Alpha at Williams; for the Chapter has always considered the proper purpose of a college fraternity to be the cultivation and exemplification of a social ideal. The maintenance of this policy accounts in large measure for the enviable reputation which the Chapter has enjoyed, while it has not prevented its members, either in college or after they have graduated, from taking an active and influential part in the affairs of Williams. In 1937, James Phinney Baxter, 3rd, a Williams Kap of the second generation, and valedictorian of the class of 1914, was elected to the Presidency of the college, and has begun his term of office under most favorable conditions. Our Society is well represented on the Board of Trustees and the Faculty of the college. The undergraduate chapter this year (1940-'41) is composed of 43 men, of a character and standing worthy of the best traditions of K. A. The Chapter roll now carries 819 names, the longest Chapter list in the long history of our old Society.

Hobart College

The history of Kappa Alpha at Hobart begins with the founding of the Chapter at Geneva College in 1844, nineteen years after the college had been granted a charter and aid from the New York State Legislature. Thus that Chapter became the westernmost representative of the Society and, indeed, was for a number of years known as Kappa Alpha in the Occident, "whilst in contrariety" the Williams Chapter was addressed as Kappa Alpha in the Orient.

The Chapter sprang from a burlesque secret society known as "The Skin and Bones," an outgrowth of "Skull and Bones" at Yale. Two Williams Kaps, Charles McKinstry, '43, and Joseph Lovell, '44, became interested in this group and were wont to seek relaxation in their company at their headquarters in Trinity Hall, then a dormitory. McKinstry, an enthusiastic Kap, soon inspired this group with a desire to secure a chapter of Kappa Alpha at Geneva. The leaders consulted in Rochester with Elisha Mather, C.C. '35, and George F. Danforth, C.C. '40, and, spurred on by McKinstry's zeal, decided to nominate for initiation two of their number, William Talmadge McDonald, '45, a son of a founder of the college, and Lawrence Sterne Stevens, '48. Both were men of high character and scholarship; subsequently one entered medicine and the other became a prominent Episcopal clergyman.

On November 26th, 1844, nineteen years to the day after the founding of the Society, McDonald and Stevens were initiated at Union to become the founders and charter members of Kappa Alpha at Geneva College, the third chapter of the Society. They returned unobtrusively to Geneva and on December 5th, 1844, with the aid of visiting Kaps, received six more members into the sodality. That ceremony was held at the old Eagle Tavern, now known as the Kirkwood Hotel. These first novitiates were Edward Stuyvesant Bragg, Joseph Morison Clarke, Andrew Merrell, Peyton Gallagher, Edwin Hampden Gibbs, and Reuben Seabury Doolittle. They, with McDonald and Stevens previously initiated at Union, "swung out" with their new Keys at the Chapel service on Sunday, December 18th, 1844, with an effect described thus by James Byron Smith (initiated December 17th, 1844): "Think of a thunderbolt in a clear sky—the excitement was intense; up to that moment it was the grandest event of our lives.”

In the years 1844-1854, K.A. in G.C. was conservative in its choice of members and initiated but thirty-three men. Of these, thirty completed the college course and were graduated; twenty-two subsequently received the degree of Master of Arts; and some received higher academic and honorary degrees. Of the men of the early years, Thaddeus Selby Newell, '45, survived the longest and was, when he died in 1920 at the age of ninety-five, the oldest living Hobart man and, as the oldest living Kap, wore the Patriarch's Key.

With such a promising beginning, it was unfortunate indeed that the Greek letter organizations had to suffer retrenchment when financial difficulties arose in the college. The State was compelled to withdraw its annual substantial subsidy and, as a result, the enrollment dwindled seriously in 1846 and the years following. Successive efforts to re-establish the college on a sounder basis resulted in its name being changed from Geneva College to Hobart Free College in 1852, and to Hobart College in 1860. The low ebb of student registrations prompted the alumni Kaps and the active chapter to determine upon a course of retrenchment until the prospects for the college should improve. Consequently, the last initiation was held November 12th, 1850; and the last member of the active chapter graduated at Commencement in 1854. The records and the paraphernalia of the Society were forwarded to Union and later to Virginia for safekeeping.

However, there remained in Geneva many staunch supporters of Kappa Alpha, men who expected soon to see the rejuvenation of the college and a revival of the chapter. Among these were Charles Clark Young, C.C. '26, William Hogarth, C.C. '40, Andrew Merrell, G.C. '47, and Stephen H. Hammond, G.C. '54. Another fervent friend was to be found in Jonathan H. Child, G.C. '49, who, although he lived in the nearby city of Rochester, was always close to the life and activities in Geneva.

For twenty-five years these men bided their time. At last, in the autumn of 1878, circumstances seemed definitely to be greatly improved; so Jonathan Child approached Edward Gideon Herendeen, then a senior at Hobart College, and instilled in him an eagerness to aid in the revival of the Chapter. Herendeen reported that a fine nucleus of men in the student body would be interested in the ideals for which Kappa Alpha stood. Consequently, Jonathan Child presented the proposals for the re-establishment of an active chapter at Hobart to all the living G.C. Kaps and received their signatures to a petition which was presented to the Union, Williams and Cornell Chapters. When the permission of these three existing Chapters had been obtained, the men at Hobart received notification from Cornell to appear there for initiation on June 16th, 1879. These initiates and re-founders of the Chapter were Edward Gideon Herendeen, '79, Everard Willie Dascomb, '80, William Lemuel Herendeen, '80, Arthur Smith Wolcott, '80, Maximilian Lindsay Kellner, '81, Laurens MacLure, '81, and Alonzo Norton Henshaw, '82. The records of the G.C. Chapter along with those of V.V. were sent to the Hobart Chapter and placed in the quarters which had been arranged first in the Cobb Block and then in the Hallenbeck Building.

All seven of the new members attained distinction in scholarship and some of them became college leaders, thus carrying on the traditions of K.A. in G.C. Much of the social life of the group centered about the "loafing room" in Trinity Hall which had been fitted out by Geneva friends. For a number of years "Ashcroft," the large Victorian estate of Senator Hammond, served as both home and rendezvous for the Chapter. In every way the Geneva alumni supported and fostered efforts which helped the Chapter to make rapid strides forward. Of great assistance, too, were the visits and encouragement of men from V.C. This close relationship with V.C. has been kept up through the years.

Shortly after the re-establishment of the Chapter there was some discussion of purchasing as a Lodge the mansion now used as the President's home; however, this purchase was deferred, and in 1890, through the efforts of Henry A. Wheat, '84, an alumni group arranged the purchase of the present Lodge, built in 1827. The house as purchased by the alumni group—known as the Kappa Alpha Reference Library Company—was scarcely large enough to accommodate the needs of the growing Chapter. It had served as boarding house and parlor to the Chapter for several years prior to its purchase, giving to the Kaps the distinction of being the first fraternity group on the campus to eat together; hence, there were many happy associations attached to it.

The enlargement of the house was made possible through the generosity of the Buffalo Kaps, notably the Richmonds and the Walkers. In June, 1892, there was a festive celebration at the Lodge to signalize the placing of the cornerstone for the new addition. Rooms were made available on the third floor and, except for minor alterations and redecorations, the Lodge is now essentially the same architecturally as it was forty-eight years ago. This marked the beginning of a new epoch in the development of K.A. in C.H.

At Commencement in 1898 occurred an event noteworthy in the Chapter's inner life; this was the presence of four of the men who fifty-four years before had been the founders of K.A. in G.C., Bragg, Gallagher, Clarke and Stevens, and "not until the rising sun shone over Seneca Lake and in the windows, did the reunion break up."

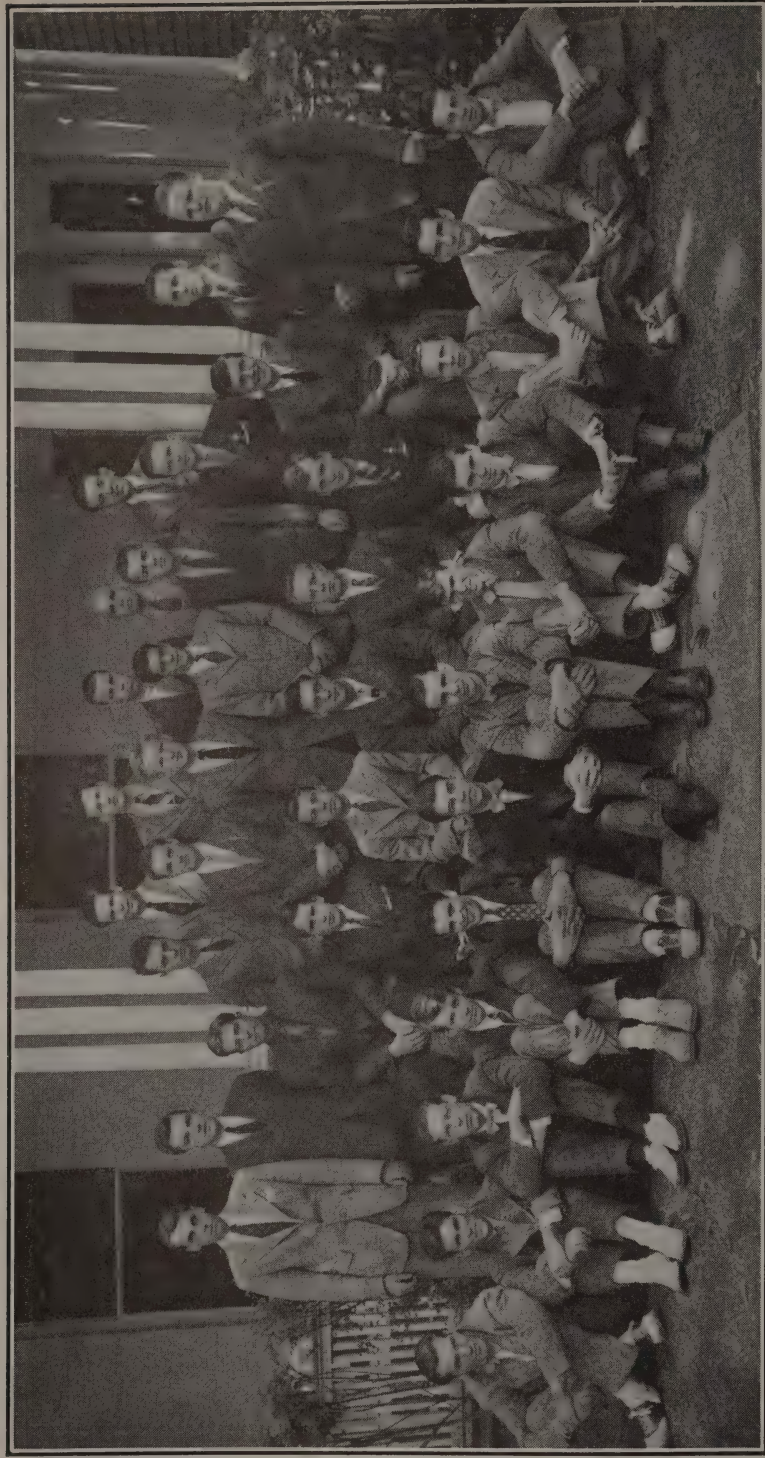

Soon after the United States entered the World War, the Chapter began once more to diminish in numbers, as one Kap after another left for the service. For a time in 1918 the College operated as a post of the S.A.T.C. A large chapter was impossible, and for a time the Lodge was used as an infirmary. However, K.A. in C.H. could and did carry on. At the time of the Armistice there was a small chapter, but alumni assistance helped immeasurably in again increasing the Chapter roll. Two Hobart Kaps, Edwin Douglas Roberts, '11, and Kenneth Cleveland Hyde, '16, died in the service during the war. Other Hobart men served in nearly every branch of the service, including the Army and Navy, the Air Corps, the Red Cross and Chaplaincy, not to mention those who served in the English Army, European Red Cross, or Consular Service.

At the conclusion of the World War the Chapter returned to its normal routine and benefited greatly from the impetus given the College with the completion of its Centennial Campaign in 1922 and the adoption of a policy to expand the size of the student body. In the last eighteen years the Chapter has initiated half as many men as had been chosen in all the long years previous to 1922.

The growth in numbers encouraged a growth in enthusiasm for Kap reunions, which have always called back many of both the older and younger members to rejoice in the fellowship of re-kindled Kap zeal. With this buoyant spirit as background, K.A. in C.H. is already planning to celebrate the glorious century of Kappa Alpha at Hobart. A unique band of Kaps from all Chapters will be present to mark the Centennial of the third Chapter of the Society on November 26th, 1944.

History of Kappa Alpha at The College of New Jersey

In the simple annals of The Kappa Alpha Society at the College of New Jersey, now Princeton University, is the story of the struggle of youth to realize the beauty of friendship. In competition with unscrupulous foes on the campus and in battle with a hostile college administration, the forty young men who wore the old Kap Key on "Princeton Hill" never swerved from the lofty ideals of their beloved society. The greatness of these men in their youth may be understood by a glance at their records later in life when, with few exceptions, each one had attained a high position of honor and trust. Honor and integrity guided their conduct as they sought to bind each other in the bonds of friendship. Firmness and consideration marked their opposition to faculty and trustees as long as a fair field of battle was offered. But when life as a chapter could no longer be had except at the sacrifice of honor, they yielded up their charter in order that the name of K. A. should be preserved from blemish.

The establishment of the Princeton Chapter was first suggested to Daniel DuBois Sahler, an undergraduate in the class of 1854, by J. Austin Guffin, C.C. '51. After careful reflection, Sahler asked Addison Waddell Woodhull, James Pascal Smith and Lewis Carter Baker to join him in petitioning the existing chapters of K. A. for a charter and the authority to establish a chapter at the College of New Jersey. With the granting of the petition several Kaps residing in Princeton, James Franklin Taylor, C.C. '52, Reuben Denton Nevius, C.C. '48, Augustine David Lawrence Jewett, C.G. '52, and Charles Jewett Collins, C.G. '45, came forward to lend their aid in the formation of the Chapter. At a general meeting of the Society held at the Florence Hotel in New York City just after the quarterly examinations in the winter of 1852-'53, and presided over by Dan Marvin, C.C. '31, the four petitioners were initiated.

The new Chapter did not at first openly proclaim its existence. It was thought desirable to remain unknown until the "number was increased by such as by their standing and reputation in the college would add to the renown of K. A." Nevertheless, two initiations were held before the spring of 1853 at which the following students were added to the chapter roll: Richard Marvin Strong, Charles Russell Clark, John Wallace, William A. Henry, Samuel Jessup, Floyd Augustus Crane, Joseph S. Halsey, Henry Carrington Alexander, Richard Stevens Conover, Joseph C. Wyckoff, Charles Trinder Middlebrook and Edward William Condict. Woodhull dwelt in town in the house of a widow, and the first meetings were held in his room. Here they listened to the brilliant essays of Henry. "As soon as he commenced reading one of his essays, the sides of his hearers would be seized with violent quakings, and their lungs alternately distended and collapsed by unavoidable cachination." Here "the question of 'swinging out' was from time to time agitated, but policy demanded us to wait a little longer. It was now undisputed that there was a chapter of the Kappa Alpha Society in college, and, though the number was unknown, many facts were stated by those pretending to know, which was not a little gratifying to our pride." Finally, "it was resolved that immediately after the second initiation the grand debut should be made." Keys were obtained and were for the first time displayed in the spring of 1853. For some time thereafter, "incipient theologians, students and townspeople seemed to have one object of conversation, viz. the golden diamonds which had so suddenly made their appearance among them."

In the meantime, a lodge room had been fitted up at Queenston, about a mile from Nassau Hall, in the house of a family named Packer. The paraphernalia of the Geneva Chapter, whose charter had been withdrawn by the advice of its own members, was forwarded to Princeton. For three years the Chapter maintained its lodge room at "Old Packer's," although many times the illness of Mrs. Packer forced them to meet elsewhere.

When college reopened on August 11, 1853, Sahler, Clark and Condict had graduated, and Henry had been compelled on account of illness to remain at home. But those who remained turned actively to the task of recruiting their numbers. Initiations were held on October 26, 1853, and March 15, 1854, as a result of which the Chapter gained eight additional members. The last initiation of the year was held late in the spring, when two more students were admitted to membership. The ceremonies were performed in the regular quarters at Queenston, after which the members adjourned to the home of Conover to enjoy a feast where "numerous toasts were drunk from the brimful coffee flagons to Love, Beauty and K. A." The joy of the occasion was marred only by the thought of parting, for from the Chapter this year ten of the most prominent men were to be lost by graduation. "Long and happy was this our last meeting, and we parted not until we heard across the distant hills the voice of the blushing moon, who in her golden robes called from out the East the dawning day." The Chapter now numbered twenty-five members and was at the height of its power in the social life of the college. As he surveyed the year just passed, Woodhull wrote: "Prosperity hath perched on our battlements, and Peace hovered within our walls—while Harmony and Concord have taken up their abode within every breast. Thus may it ever be in K. A. But while none gainsayeth our prosperity, who will dare vouch for its continuance? Enemies the bitterest and most powerful lurk around—and already has been heard the far off rumbling of the threatening bolt."

The danger which they feared was action by the college authorities, hostile to the Greek letter societies. Already in the summer of 1853 the parents or guardians of each student had received along with the "grades" for the year a letter from the Faculty declaring secret societies to be "of a mischievous tendency" and announcing the determination of the Trustees and Faculty to suppress them. This action naturally startled the different fraternities and caused much excitement at the college. The Kaps, after consulting several alumni of C.C. and C.G., and especially Professor Isaac W. Jackson, C.C. '26, decided to take no action but to await developments. The wisdom of their course was justified, for the whole matter was dropped by the Faculty during the following college year. But the opposition was revived at the opening of the term, August 11, 1854, when each new student was compelled to take a pledge that he would not join any secret society while he remained at the college.

The drastic action of the college authorities led to many conferences by the Kaps. Finally a resolution was passed denouncing the required pledge as "an exaction not only detrimental to the good name and reputation of our own Fraternity, but also based upon grounds inconsistent with the principles of a liberal and enlightened understanding, and a coercion adverse to the interests of the College." At the same time it was requested that a joint committee of the various fraternities should meet "to prepare a paper petitioning the Faculty for abrogation of said pledge, and for the official recognition of secret societies." The committee held several meetings, Kappa Alpha being represented by William Christy Stitt and John Campbell Boyd. Nothing was accomplished, however, for many of the other societies were determined to regard the pledge as null and void.

"Yet amid such troublous times forgot we not the application of the dissecting knife, and were rejoiced at the acceptance of our proposals by John F. Henry and Samuel Southard Halsey." Neither of these students had given the pledge required by the Faculty and they could be initiated without breach of good faith. The ceremonies were held in the lodge room at Packer's on August 24, 1854. "By reason of the infirmities of 'the bone of his bone and the flesh of his flesh' of the worthy host 'Pater Packer,'" some features customary on such occasions were omitted, "yet all went merry as a marriage bell."

"But the sober reality soon forced itself" upon the little group; new members could not be secured without violation of the pledge exacted by the college. But a degree of laxity in the enforcement of the pledge appears to have arisen, since a number of students went from time to time to President Maclean and withdrew their promises. "It was then determined that the chosen, who would withdraw their pledge from the Chief Guardian of Nassau, should be admitted" to membership in Kappa Alpha. In pursuance of this resolution, two students were admitted to membership on October 26, 1854. "The initiatory rites were solemnized" at Packer's, "but from the dilapidation of the corporeal tenement of our hostess, we could not meet around her bounteous board."

In the face of the common danger, the fraternities at the College of New Jersey drew a little closer to each other. Early in the winter, "the grim Destroyer made his appearance amid our College Circle, and bore from our sight T. J. Trippe, a member of the D. K. E. Fraternity." The Kaps, "judging what their feelings would have been, under similar circumstances, sent resolutions of condolence to the afflicted ones." But the opposition of the college authorities to the secret societies continued to grow as the students began to withdraw their pledges from the President. "The interchange of friendly wishes could not secure us from storms and dangers, for, many having withdrawn their pledges from the College Guardian, his wrath rose high and he swore in his wrath, that none, who should withdraw the seal of bondage, should longer remain in Nassau's Halls. This vow of expatriation caused a sudden awakening from our peaceful security, but soon we freed ourselves by unanimously resolving, 'That we take persons in as invited guests, and that they be not allowed to sign the constitution until they graduate'." Further reflection convinced the young men that this course was unwise, if not dishonorable, and must be abandoned. "Everyone who joined our society, previously withdrew his promise from the President of the College."

When the academic year closed on May 10, 1855, "everything was in fair and flourishing condition." The quarters at "old Packer's" had been enlarged and redecorated. The chapter "occupied a position incomparably superior to that held by any other society, and in many respects more flattering to ourselves than at any other period of our history." But the college authorities had at last determined to abolish all secret societies, and on June 28-29, 1855, the Board of Trustees took action which supported the position of the Faculty by passing the following resolutions:

"Resolved, That with respect to prohibited secret societies, the Trustees approve of the action of the Faculty in their requiring students about to enter college to pledge themselves not to join any secret societies; and that they urge the Faculty to put an end to these secret societies."

"Resolved, That the President be directed, at the opening of the next session of the College, to announce publicly to the students that the subject of prohibited secret societies was deliberately discussed by the Trustees, and the Faculty were, by a unanimous vote, required promptly to dismiss any student, known, after that date, to be a member of such an association."

Acting under these resolutions, the Faculty strengthened the pledge administered to the entering students so that it compelled them to promise "not to join, or have any connection with any secret society, club, or association, of whatever character, either in this or in any other college."

"The effect of such formidable opposition was at first to paralyze the operations of all the societies in college, and at one time it was thought that a general disbandment would be made. For ourselves we at first deemed it impracticable to make any exertions for the present, but to await and watch for the issue of circumstances. We made no effort to secure new men. But the Faculty as before were becoming listless and negligent. The other societies began very covertly and cautiously, but prosperously, to add to their numbers, and as no action was taken by the authorities, although evidently conscious of the fact, we began to regard our own course as at least a debatable subject. Many meetings were held for the discussion of the question, and advice was taken from our alumni. . . . It was argued on the one side that these resolutions and the pledge were of no more effect than a regular college law, and these were regarded as dead letters, never enforced except in peculiar emergencies. Men's own feelings too, which ever furnish arguments to sustain the course which they prefer to take, were especially fertile here in suggesting reasons for pressing on. On the other side, the arguments were all unpopular and unattractive, and not being presented with very cogent force, and indeed at this particular state of the proceedings, the pledge itself not being well understood, it was decided to adopt a course somewhat midway, as follows: 'To associate new men with us in the regular way, except that they were not to be permitted to sign the constitution, nor to wear the society badge, nor to call themselves or be called Kappa Alphas out in the world, nor to vote in the meetings of the society.'

"We now began to exert ourselves to recover what we had lost in the times of our indecision." Three men were pledged and an initiation was held on September 25, 1855. "This was the last initiation ever performed in C. N. C.—fit conclusion to the glorious history of our chapter. For the graduate members of our chapter, many of whom were at that time in the Princeton Theological Seminary, came to us and formally advised us to proceed no further. They said that it was altogether inadvisable to attempt to war against such combined opposition from the Faculty, and even if successful at first, as they acknowledged we had pre-eminently been, it would be a difficult task to maintain the honorable and distinguished character of the Society. . . . Influenced by these considerations, which were presented with much force and had all the weight of authority on their side, we reversed our decision, and with grief peculiarly poignant agreed at least temporarily to give up our chapter and surrender our constitution at the close of the Senior Year, 1856." The last meeting was held on Monday evening before Commencement (June 23, 1856), when opportunity was "given once more, but for the last time, of witnessing our Kapp scenery, in a Kapp cave, where good Kapp hearts may indulge in all the jovial recreations peculiar to the great Kapp union."

The record of K. A. in C. N. C. is one of which every Kap may justly be proud. In a paragraph in which John Peter Jackson, First Honor man of the class of 1856, closed the story of his Chapter, he wrote: "In whatever circumstances she has been placed, she has always acted a noble, high-minded and consistent course, to the honor of herself and her friends." Nobility of character, honesty of purpose, and love of truth animated every Princeton Kap. No loss to Kappa Alpha in the century of its existence has been as great as the suppression of the Princeton Chapter. At the same time the question may fairly be raised whether the destruction of such a powerful force for good in the social life of Princeton has not left that college spiritually less rich than it would have been if above her lofty towers the banner of K. A. had continued to wave.

History of Kappa Alpha at The University of Virginia

The career of Kappa Alpha in the University of Virginia was brief, but of brilliant promise. During its four years' existence, though overshadowed by impending war, the Chapter maintained all the traditions of the Society. When war came, its members acquitted themselves gallantly and well.

During their brief period of active chapter life, the Kaps of V. V. carried off more college honors than did any other secret society in the University, yet it is recorded of them that they were "readily reckoned among the festively inclined." The Civil War found, of the Chapter's forty-seven members, thirty-seven in the Confederate Army, and one in the Federal forces. Of the thirty-seven who fought for the South, seven fell in battle, and most of the V. V. Kaps who survived the first two years of the war rose to high rank and prominence in the Confederate Army.

Had it not been for the suppression of secret societies at Princeton, there might have been no chapter of Kappa Alpha at Virginia. Abolition of the Princeton Chapter in 1856 had broken again the "Trinity" of chapters that was then the Society's ideal, as it had been broken a few years previous by the voluntary suspension of the Geneva Chapter. The Princeton Kaps, second to none in loyalty, wished to fill worthily the place that they had reluctantly vacated.

They turned to the University of Virginia, then, as now, the leading university of the South, which had attracted the best of its young men. In the history of K. A.'s last year at Princeton, written by John Peter Jackson, Jr., C.N.C. '56, appears this paragraph:

"We propose to establish another chapter, in the University of Virginia. A committee of one was appointed from each chapter to canvass the subject. It is probable that we shall transfer our furniture to the new chapter, should it be successfully established."

Princeton's "committee of one" was Joseph Hodgson, C.N.C. '56, who was graduated that Commencement from Princeton and who that fall entered the University of Virginia to study law. It was largely through his efforts that the Chapter was actually launched, and during the early part of the college year he selected carefully the small group of Virginia undergraduates who were to become the charter members of V. V.

On January 8, 1857, the Chapter was formally installed. There were only two other existing chapters, Union and Williams, and the ceremonies were conducted by Hodgson and by two Union undergraduates, Samuel S. Newbury, C.C. '57, and Daniel S. Mann, C.C. '58, both of whom later became officers in the Federal Army, the first named falling in battle. Hodgson, a Virginian born, became a Colonel in the Confederate Army.

At this first initiation, the novitiates were Augustus William Cockrell, Alexander McCrie Duncan, John Hanson Kennard, William Zachary Mead, and Charles Tackett Goolrick. A charter was presented, signed by Daniel Loomis Millard, C.C. '57, William Tatlock, C.G. '57, and John Peter Jackson, Jr., C.N.C. '56. Under the leadership of Hodgson and Cockrell, the Chapter commenced an active campaign to increase its membership through the addition of some kindred spirits and was so successful that on January 28, less than three weeks after the installation of the Chapter, a second initiation was held, conducted by the new officers. They initiated Richard Samuel Thomas, Alphonso Alexander Gray and George Proctor Screven. On March 2, they initiated John Bernard Peyton, James Harrison Williams, Robert Crawford, William Williamson and Baron Higham.

During the first year, and at times subsequently, meetings were held in the rooms of members and there was always a good deal of secrecy as to the whereabouts of the "Hall." Meetings were held for some time, however, in the second story of a brick house on the left side of the road from the University to Charlottesville. There was also a "Hall" in "Scuffle town," a nearby suburb.

The opening of the college year 1858-'59 found the Chapter in good condition, and competing in "electioneering for members," as rushing was then termed, among the leading societies of Virginia. On November 6 was held the initiation of Charles Simeon Stringfellow, Lyttleton Tyler, Wilson Niles Cary and Richard Launcelot Maury.

Kappa Alpha in V. V. had progressed rapidly in a comparatively short space of time, yet with each day it became more apparent that the Chapter faced unique difficulties. It was in danger of becoming too isolated from the main body of the Society, first, because of its geographical position, and second, because of the ever-increasing political tension. It was far from Charlottesville, Virginia, to the nearest chapter, at Schenectady, New York, even had there been many who, save from purest Kap loyalty, would have cared to travel into the North.

It can be understood, therefore, that the Virginia Chapter saw very few Kaps of other chapters, and that the constant touch with the remainder of the Society that had distinguished the life of the Princeton Chapter was here impossible.

One of the most interesting episodes in the Chapter's history occurred in 1860, when it received from "our Northern brethren" an invitation to "a great reunion meeting of Kappa Alpha" to be held in New York. This was none other than one of the early New York Dinners, later known as the "Delmonico Dinners." After Walter Coles, V.V. '59, had "in a few very forcible remarks" urged the importance of accepting this particular invitation, it was voted to send a delegate. Coles was chosen delegate, and the newspapers at the time said that he "made a very happy report" of the condition of the Virginia Chapter "and was answered by bursts of applause." This was on January 3, 1861. A little over three months later, the Civil War had commenced.

How comparatively little concerted action there was at that time in K. A. is shown by the fact that when the Virginia Chapter received, a year later, a petition for a charter from a group of men at another Southern college, they did not hesitate to deny the petition, afterward notifying the two other chapters of their action "as a matter of courtesy."

Due, again, largely to its isolation, the Virginia Chapter developed some original customs and internal practices. But, though the war clouds gathered more thickly, though to the outside world in the South that knew nothing of the bonds of K. A., such an expression as "our Northern brethren" would have been anathema, the Kaps of V. V. enlivened their gatherings with wit and feasting, and friendship warmed their hearts.

But with the opening of the college year 1860-'61, it had become impossible to shut out, even from that calm retreat, the rising excitement. As the breach between North and South widened, young men of spirit found it increasingly difficult to remain at college. Meetings were becoming less frequent and, when they were held, different in character. We are told that at the meeting of January 9, 1861: "Under the head of wit, a political discussion consumed all the time set aside for that amusement."

It was clear then what the end would be and indeed, before the last meeting, some of the Chapter had left the University. The last meeting that K. A. in V. V. ever held was on March 7, 1861. Only five weeks later, Fort Sumter was fired upon, and soon afterward the last Kap had followed his predecessors into the ranks of the newly-formed Confederate Army.

The books, the charter and other papers of the Chapter were deposited for safe-keeping in the library of the University, where they remained throughout the Civil War. They are now in the possession of the Williams Chapter. The charter was recovered thirty years later, by the 1892 Kappa Alpha Record Committee.

After the Civil War, the V. V. Kaps, returning from the army with honorable records, sought varied pursuits and became scattered. In 1880 the new re-established Hobart Chapter undertook the labor of love of ascertaining their whereabouts and bringing them again into touch with K. A. This was done largely by Jonathan H. Child, C.H. '49, and by E. W. Dascomb, C.H. '80, whose efforts elicited many proofs that the Virginia Kaps remained true and loyal to the Society.

For many years, those of them who could, attended Kap gatherings and were hailed with joy. But their number had never been large, and time passed. It remained for Arthur Crisfield, V.V. '60, to write "Finis" to his Chapter's glorious page of K. A.'s history. He died January 24, 1925 in Washington, D. C., where he had long lived—just after he had written with his own hand a message of regret that he could not be present in New York at the Society's Centennial Dinner.

Cornell University

The Cornell Chapter of Kappa Alpha owes its origin to the efforts of Samuel Halliday Wilcox, C.N.C. '57, who resided in Ithaca at the time of the opening of Cornell University, 1868. He invited Jacob Maus Schermerhorn and Francis Ellington Leupp, both of Williams College, to visit Cornell and look the ground over. Associated with these two men was William Davis Granger, also an undergraduate at Williams. Thirty-four years later, in the spring of 1902, the V.C. Chapter had the pleasure of visits from both Dr. Granger and Mr. Leupp. The addresses given by them were full of most interesting history of the first days of the Chapter when so much was done by Williams men to see it properly started. The first visit (1868) resulted in the selection of Aaron Putnam Storrs, Jr., and George Romeo Woodford, students at Cornell, to become charter members of the new Chapter. These two men were taken to Williamstown and there initiated November 25, 1868. A charter being duly secured, Storrs and Woodford returned to Ithaca and proceeded to launch K. A. in V.C.

On the night of December 28, 1868, Thomas Frederick Crane and Charles Frederick Hartt, both members of the faculty of Cornell, were initiated into Kappa Alpha at Delmonico's, New York. The Chapter was further strengthened at its inception by the presence in the faculty of John Lewis Morris, C.C. '56, who became Dean of the Sibley College of Engineering, and Charles J. A. Schaeffer, C.C., Professor of Chemistry and Mineralogy, and later Dean of the Faculty.

During the winter and spring of 1869 the following students were made members of the Society: Charles Jason Powers, Stephen Smith Burt, Charles Henry Ramsey, William Allen Butler, Wing Russell Smith, Dick Murray Kirby, and Warren Leland, Jr. The same year, rooms were engaged on the fourth floor of the Finch Block, at the corner of Tioga and State Streets, and there the Society made its home for about eighteen years.

In 1876 Theodore Stanton advocated the building of a lodge in which to house the Chapter. A subscription list was begun and in 1884, a substantial sum having been subscribed, the Trustees of the Kappa Alpha Association, Incorporated, decided to select a site and build. The year following, the trustees, then consisting of Professor J. L. Morris, C. E. VanCleaf, Mynderse VanCleaf, Frank H. Hiscock, William T. Carrington, S. B. Newberry, Horace White, and Frederic J. Whiton, selected the site of the present building and authorized the construction of V.C.'s first lodge. The plans for the new building were prepared by Edward B. Green, V.C. '78. Work was begun in 1886 and completed in the spring of 1887.

The lodge was destroyed by fire during the Christmas recess, 1898-99. It so happened that the local fire department was having a banquet at the time the alarm of fire was sounded. Thinking the alarm was a hoax, none of the men responded at once. In consequence, the interior of the house was completely destroyed. The town and faculty alumni who had in '86 been chiefly instrumental in financing and managing the construction of the first lodge, with the assistance of later graduates and trustees, immediately set about the erection of a new home. V.C. alumni responded generously and in consequence the new building was made larger by adding to the original east wall of the old, the present dining-room, kitchen and suites of rooms above.

Owing to the tendency at Cornell for larger chapter rolls among all fraternities the Chapter began to outgrow its rooming accommodations. For a number of years past, Charles Wason, V.C. '76, of Cleveland, had been systematically making gifts to the Society's lodge equipment and giving substantial sums of money to the Chapter, enabling the association, with the aid of many other generous donations, to pay off the indebtedness incurred when the second house was built. Appreciating the need of additional rooming facilities, Mr. Wason offered to give fifteen thousand dollars toward the erection of an addition. The gift was accepted, the addition made and completed in the fall of 1909. In the rearrangement of rooms the suite on the main floor of the old building was converted into a "guest suite" which is frequently used by alumni returning with their wives and by the relatives of undergraduates. Besides this there is an alumni suite on the second floor.

New chapters of Kappa Alpha have had their origin at V.C. On February 19, 1892, the initial members of the Toronto Chapter were initiated there, and on April 26, 1913, ten members of the new Pennsylvania Chapter were likewise duly initiated, ten others being "swung" at C.G. at the same time.

The Cornell Chapter has a war record of which it is very proud.

Its losses were heavy among American fraternities. Nine beloved and outstanding boys gave their lives: Chester I. Warren, '05, Roger W. Hitchcock, '10, Sidney T. Cole, '14, Walcott B. Hastings, '15, George B. Evans, Jr., '15, Elbert C. Baker, '15, Horace Wyman, 2nd, '17, William M. Russell, '17, and A. A. Porter, '19.

Porter, serving in the "American Ambulance," died of pneumonia in Paris in the spring of 1917. He was the first Cornellian to give his life in the war. Warren died of illness at Watervliet Arsenal. He was a Major in the Ordnance Department. Wyman, as First Lieutenant, Field Artillery, was attending officers school at Cleremond, France, when taken by typhoid. Evans, as Ensign in Naval Flying Service, was killed in an airplane accident at Miami, Florida. Hitchcock, First Lieutenant and Pilot in Air Service, was shot down on Chateau Thierry front. He had been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for heroism in action a few days before. Russell, First Lieutenant in Aviation, was likewise shot down over the German lines. Cole, Hastings and Baker, First Lieutenants in the Infantry, were all killed in action in France.

These are the boys whose names and memories will not perish. A suitable and stirring decorative panel painting in oil representing the Dawn of Peace, by Truman E. Fassett, V.C. '09, has been placed in the dining-room of the lodge as a memorial to them.

Over one hundred members of K. A. in V.C. entered the military or naval service and half of them served overseas. In this number, only two of whom had been in military service as a profession, we find many promotions: one to the rank of Brigadier General, two to that of Colonel, three to Lieutenant Colonel, six to Major, nine to Captain, twenty to First Lieutenant, eighteen to Second Lieutenant, twelve to Ensign, and ten were decorated or cited for distinguished service, of whom two received the Distinguished Service Cross.

As V.C. started with representatives on the Cornell Faculty and has continued to enjoy this distinction through the years, it is fortunate in claiming the following: Thomas Frederick Crane, now deceased—known fondly to thousands of Cornellians as "Teefee Crane"—is remembered in a popular Cornell song. Twice during his active life in the faculty he served as Acting-President of the University and for many years as Dean. Dean W. A. Hammond, now deceased, Professor F. C. Prescott, J. R. Lindsay and G. S. Greene, all of the faculty of the College of Arts and Sciences, the two latter Hobart Kaps, complete the list.

There have been taken into the Cornell Chapter a total of 573 men. The active Chapter now consists of thirty members, including this year's ten pledges who will not be initiated until after this volume is published.

Since the publication of the preceding Kap Record in 1926, Mynderse VanCleeef, '74, who was president of the Alumni Association from its incorporation in 1889 and chiefly instrumental in financing and managing the building of the two lodges and additions, Charles E. Treman, '89, and Charles D. Bostwick, '92, all local trustees of the Kappa Alpha Association and always active in Society matters throughout much of its history at V.C., have passed away. The abiding interest which the town alumni have had in the Chapter since its foundation has not waned with the years.

Of the most loyal and active Primeval Kaps, the Honorable Frank H. Hiscock survives. The Patriarch's Key was presented to Judge Hiscock at a meeting of Kaps from various chapters on the 26th day of November, 1939, at the Lodge. At the time he was in his 84th year.

The Chapter was founded about four years after the close of the Civil War. Since then it has lived through and contributed sons to Service in the Spanish-American War, and, as noted earlier in this Record, to the World War. As this history goes to press, the United States is strenuously engaged in preparing for another possible conflict, the extent and severity of which are now unpredictable, but obviously preparation is unavoidable. Judging from the record of Kaps in 1917-'18, the history of Kappa Alpha during the next decade will be involved intimately with the history of the United States.

The University of Toronto

Kappa Alpha became an international fraternity in 1892 with the founding of the first Canadian chapter at the University of Toronto. The University has now a registration of over seven thousand, and in its growth is seen the fulfilment of the prophetic judgment of the Society to enter Canada and of the founders of the Chapter to inaugurate K. A. in V.T. nearly fifty years ago. The project originated in the winter of 1889-'90 and eventually, after much preliminary work by Stephen Hallett Hammond, C.H. '54, Frank Harris Hiscock, V.C. '75, James Carrington Avery, V.C. '83, Albert James Myer, C.H. '84, Paul Carlton Ransom, C.G. '86, Marc Walker Comstock, C.G. '88, Edward Herrick Childs, C.G. '91, and Augustus Underhill, C.G. '91, to all of which Mr. Comstock contributed intense enthusiasm and initiative, the Executive Council unanimously resolved to establish a chapter at the University of Toronto, at a meeting held in New York on January 2, 1891, provided that the consent of the several active chapters be obtained. Soon after the meeting of the Council an undergraduate delegation from C.G. and C.H. visited Toronto and reported against an immediate establishment of the Chapter, because they thought that the time was not yet opportune.

During the summer of 1891 little was done, but in the autumn the work was pushed with considerable activity, and at the Council meeting of December 30 a petition for a charter was presented, signed by six undergraduates of the University. On January 6, 1892, a final visit was made to Toronto. This visit resulted in the approval of the petitioners and an agreement by the various chapters to the occupation of the new ground. Preparations were accordingly made for the inauguration of the Chapter and on February 19, at Ithaca, N. Y., the ceremonies of initiation and of presentation of the charter took place. The initiates were Charles James Rattray Bethune, '92, Samuel Casey Wood, '92, Archibald Montgomery, '92, and Walter Livingston Coulthard, '94—all of whom were petitioners for the charter, together with Goldwin Larratt Smith, '94, and Arthur Algoma Vickers, '94, who were unable to be present at the initiation at Ithaca.

As the membership of Kappa Alpha in V.T. rapidly increased rented accommodation became inadequate, and, in 1902, an attractive lodge was built on University grounds. This was the first chapter house built by a fraternity at Toronto, and many look back with pleasant memories on the successful period when it served as a Kap centre for twenty-eight years.

The first great world war brought profound changes, and 103 of the 144 Toronto Kaps served overseas in His Majesty's Forces. Over twenty gave their lives, twenty were wounded and four became prisoners of war in Germany.

The decorations won by members of the Toronto Chapter were many: Distinguished Service Order, 9; Bar to Distinguished Service Order, 2; Military Cross, 14; Bar to Military Cross, 3; Distinguished Flying Cross, 1; Air Force Cross, 1; Croix de Guerre Belge, 1; Order of the British Empire, 3; Order of St. Stanislas (Russia), 1; Chevalier, Star of Roumania, 1; Mentioned in Despatches, 13.

So many were engaged in military service that it was impossible to carry on the work of the Chapter, and in June 1916 the house was closed. After the Armistice a temporary active chapter was formed with Alumni as officers, and the lodge was reopened on February 15th, 1919. Guy Warwick Rutter, '15, and Harold M. W. Tovell, '12, were responsible for the reorganization, which has brought Kappa Alpha to its present strong position in spite of the difficulties that were inevitably encountered in the post-war period.

In 1932 with the aid of the Executive Council a new lodge was purchased and Kappa Alpha again had adequate accommodation. The house was completely refurnished through the generosity of the local Alumni in 1937, and at the present time the lodge is open with a full membership, fifteen men having been pledged during a successful rushing season, and initiated on November 2nd, 1940. Although the outbreak of a new world war threatens to bring the difficulties previously experienced, the spirit of Kappa Alpha is, as before, to "Carry On." Uncertain as is the future, the need for fighting personnel well trained in technical knowledge will probably alter the pattern of war service. At the present time all active members are receiving military instruction in addition to their regular studies.

The Chapter roll now numbers 398, of whom 78 members have enlisted in various branches of the service and are widely scattered over the Empire. Again the Key has been draped in black in proud memory of Hugh Lockhart Gordon, '31, who died in a flying accident, and George Henry Kirkpatrick Strathy, '40, who was killed in a Mediterranean action of the battleship Ajax.

It is hoped, if circumstances permit, that the approaching half-century celebration will be fittingly marked by the presence of those who during the last fifty years have worked to bring the Chapter to its present outstanding position, both in the University and in Kappa Alpha.

Kappa Alpha Lodge, Lehigh University

at

Lehigh University

The Alpha Chapter of Kappa Alpha in the State of Pennsylvania was founded at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa., January, 1894.

For fully a year, three members of the class of 1895, James Emery Brooks, Henry Edward Kip, and Charles Frazier Maurice, had been working to obtain a charter, and finally made application in May, 1893. The idea of applying to Kappa Alpha originated with Kip and the successful outcome was largely due to the zeal and energy of Brooks.

The petitioners first approached Dr. William H. Chandler, C.C. '62, a member of the faculty of Lehigh University, who referred them to Silas B. Brownell, C.C. '52, in New York City. This led to a formal petition, and a Committee of Investigation, consisting of Theodore L. Peters, C.G. '91, James G. McLoughlin, V.C. '84, and Robert G. Mead, C.G. '93, visited Lehigh during the autumn of 1893. They reported in favor of establishing a chapter at Lehigh and a charter was granted at a meeting of the Executive Council in New York City in November of the same year. The signers of the petition were: James Emery Brooks, Henry Edward Kip and Charles Frazier Maurice, '95, Malcolm Carrington and James Gordon Mason, '96, and Edward Hileman Waring and Lathrop Hutchins Baldwin, '97.

All the petitioners, except Carrington, were initiated on the night of January 2, 1894, in the Masonic Temple, Sixth Avenue and 23rd Street, New York City. The attendance at the inauguration was one of the largest in the history of the Society up to that time—nearly one hundred being present, including Lucius Quintus Curtis, a charter member of Williams, '35. Silas B. Brownell, C.C. '52, presided at the dinner, and J. Hugh Peters, C.G. '58, at the exercises following. L. M. Van Bokkelen, C.H. '84, presented the charter, and Charles Bulkley Hubbell, C.G. '74, presented the books for the new Chapter.

In the following February, Malcolm Carrington, who was unable to be present at the initiation of the other charter members, and Henry Jonathan Biddle Baird, and Harrison Ricord Van Duyne,

'97, were initiated at Bethlehem. The interest the Society took in the new Chapter was shown by the number of members present, there being representatives from nearly all the active Chapters, besides a number of alumni.

Until the end of the college year the Chapter had no regular house and held its meetings in one rented by Maurice. The next autumn a house was rented on Cherokee Street, which, though small and unpretentious, made a cozy and comfortable home. This became too small as the Chapter grew and in 1901 a lease was made for a larger house which was of good size and well adapted for the requirements at that time. As the Chapter continued to grow a still larger house became necessary. In 1908, a lease was signed for the old Sayre property which was large, roomy and surrounded by extensive and attractive grounds. This house was occupied until 1916, when, because of a real estate manipulation, the owner sold the house. The Chapter then moved to Seneca Street, and two years later to a house on Broadway.

With the graduation of Kaps in '95, the Kappa Alpha Alumni Association of Lehigh was formed to promote an active alumni interest in the Chapter, to start, by the payment of small annual dues, a nucleus for a House Fund, and to render such other assistance as might be necessary. In 1920, a very definite drive for funds for a new house was inaugurated when it became increasingly difficult, due to the war, to rent a house in Bethlehem. The Alumni Association incorporated in this year and finally purchased the present house in 1922. This desirable consummation was brought about largely through the efforts of Frederick R. Horne, '06, who enlisted other active Lehigh Kaps and organized the drive. Since the incorporation, the Alumni Association has been able to give close supervision and mature direction to the Chapter in financial and business matters, which has served to cement alumni and undergraduate activities, and has insured an arrangement that will maintain the Chapter as self-supporting.

In V.L.'s forty-seven years of existence the student body at Lehigh has increased from 500 to 1800, and the number of fraternities from fifteen to twenty-nine. In 1909, a large area of South Mountain, now known as Sayre Park, was laid out in well-graded roadways and presented to the University. The University promptly established this as a potential site for all fraternity houses and, under certain regulations, will grant a location to any petitioning fraternity for the erection of a permanent house. Many fraternities are now located on the campus. It seems highly desirable that sometime in the future K.A. in V.L. should have a house in Sayre Park.

On May 3, 1919, there were initiated at V.L. three charter members of the Pennsylvania Chapter, namely, Haig, Arnold and Wright, who were not able to attend initiations at Williams and Cornell. Ever since, due to the close proximity of the Chapters, the association between the respective undergraduates has been very intimate and has undoubtedly led to their finer appreciation of the bonds of friendship in K.A.

Upon the entrance of the United States into the World War, the V.L. Chapter was sadly depleted and for a time was swallowed up in the S.A.T.C. Of the alumni, 54 per cent were in active service and 10 per cent in war industry work. Two of V.L.'s most promising sons gave their lives for their country: Delozier Davidson, '15, Ensign, U. S. Naval Aviation Corps, fell near Lake Montchic, Lacanau, France, and Edward Crawford Davidson, Jr., '18, 2nd Lieutenant, U. S. Aviation Corps, was killed in a fall at Kingsville, Texas. At the initiation in the fall of 1924, a commemorative tablet to them was dedicated in a very stirring address by Major Alfred L. P. Sands, V.L. '05.

The establishment of an interfraternity council at Lehigh to help solve the mutual problems of the fraternity group has served to bring into closer relationship the "off the campus" fraternities; an "Inner Circle," known as the Union Triad, has brought together the three original fraternities founded at Union, Kappa Alpha, Sigma Phi and Delta Phi. This bond is cemented with a dance held during the early part of each college year.

One of the most gratifying contingencies of the growing in age of the Chapter has been the acquisition of the sons of Lehigh Kaps. It was fitting that Charles E. Brooks, son of our founder, James E. Brooks, '95, should have been the first. He has been followed by Roswell S. McMullen, Jr., son of Roswell S. McMullen, '05, Robert de S. and Charles D. Couch, sons of Frederick F. Couch, '09; Gardiner and Philip R. Van Duyne, Jr., sons of Philip R. Van Duyne, '06; Malcolm Carrington, Jr., son of Malcolm Carrington, '96; and Hazen P. Chase, son of M. Hazen Chase, '05.

K.A. and V.L. is, therefore, carrying forward the torch of true friendship and fellowship, with a deep sense of the responsibility of service to the University, the State and the Nation, that the glorious old traditions of Kappa Alpha demand and inculcate.

In 1892, K. A. had established a chapter in the University of Toronto. It was natural that before many years should pass, the members of V.T. should turn their thoughts to the establishment of a companion Canadian chapter. As a result of the efforts of the late Charles J. T. Bethune, V.T. '92, S. Casey Wood, V.T. '92, Norwood M. Lash, V.T. '95, and other Toronto Kaps, a petition was presented; and, at a special meeting of the Executive Council, held at Albany, N. Y., on the 25th day of February, 1899, a charter was granted. An Inauguration Committee composed of George M. Alden, C.G. '95, chairman, Frank W. Olds, C.G. '76, Arthur A. Vickers, V.T. '94, Norwood M. Lash, V.T. '94, Albert S. Cox, C.C. '95, and Alexander D. Falck, C.G. '99, proceeded immediately to make the necessary arrangements, and, at Williamstown on the night of the 21st of April, 1899, the following McGill undergraduates were initiated into the mysteries of K. A. and became the charter members of the Chapter: Bertrand H. Keating, '00, Henry T. Keating, '00, R. Harold Ker, '01, Walter G. Mitchell, '01, William A. Ramsay, '02, and Harry Lorne Pavey, '02. The initiation service was followed on the next evening by the installation of officers, when the charter and books of the new Chapter were entrusted to their care.

The setting of the Chapter on its feet, and the history of K. A. in V.M. through the years could make a long story; suffice it to say, however, that until 1914 there was noted a steady progress in the strength and in the prestige of the McGill Chapter. The housing question was the only thorn in its side, and it was forced to move three times before the house on University Street was found. But the most serious set-back experienced was the Great War of 1914-1918: at that time all thoughts of better quarters were forgotten, and moreover every last member of the Chapter was engaged in military service, the majority overseas and the remainder training with the McGill Contingent of the Officers Training Corps.

Meanwhile, the Kaps in the First Contingent had founded a strange offshoot of the Society on Salisbury Plain in England.

From the occasional meeting of Kap with Kap there grew up a demand for a more regular time and form of meeting, which led to the formation of the Chapter of "K. A. Beyond the Seas" on November 25, 1914. The minutes of several meetings are preserved in the archives of V.M. The first meeting was held at Tilshead, England, with Lieutenant Harold F. McDonald, V.M. '07, and Major Andrew G. L. McNaughton, V.M. '10, as chairman and secretary of the meeting respectively, there being thirteen Kaps present.

At one stage during the war years, largely through the loyal support and service of the Alumni, the house was kept open with only two active members. By the end of the War 110 members of V.M. had joined the service, of whom 41 had received decorations, 21 had been mentioned in despatches, 16 had been wounded and 12 had been killed. But K. A. in V.M. survived the war years with colours flying, and, we hope, will do as well throughout the present crisis.

On the 25th of November, 1923, the anniversary of the foundation of the Society and of the formation of "K. A. Beyond the Seas" in 1914, a tablet to the members of V.M. who had fallen in the War was unveiled in the chapter house by Sir Arthur Currie, G.C.M.G., K.C.B., LL.D., Principal of the University, and late Commander of the Canadian Corps, who was assisted in the service by the active Chapter, Brigadier-General A. G. L. McNaughton, C.M.G., D.S.O., LL.D., who read the Roll Call, the Right Reverend the Bishop of Montreal, and Hon. Walter G. Mitchell, K.C., M.P., a charter member of the Chapter.

During the winter of 1919-1920 it became apparent that the housing shortage in Montreal was becoming so serious that the Chapter must acquire a house of its own. Accordingly, a campaign was launched early in 1920, by a committee consisting of Errol M. McDougall, Hope C. Scott, W. Gordon Hanson, Alan R. Renaud, John P. Bankier and Charles McNicoll, whose efforts happily resulted in the subscription of sufficient funds to acquire the house at 3605 University Street.

Subscription to the funds for the house was followed on the 5th day of April, 1922, by the incorporation of a company under the name of Kappa Alpha Alumni Association of Montreal, Inc., by Letters Patent of the Province of Quebec, in which Company is vested the ownership of the house. The objects of the Corporation are: "To promote the continued association of the Alumni and Members of the Kappa Alpha Society; to advance the Society's objects, social and educational; and to further the interests of the Society, particularly by ensuring the progress and welfare of the McGill Chapter."

Through the years, K. A. in V.M. has maintained its enviable reputation on the campus and, since moving to University Street, the Chapter has become a little larger. It now numbers about thirty men, all of whom participate keenly in both academic and extra-curricular activities.

It was natural that the house should finally need renovating, and in 1939, chiefly through the magnificent generosity of the Alumni, the house was completely rebuilt and the Chapter now has a lodge which for comfort and attractiveness is the equal of any on the campus.

At present 56 members of V.M. are on active war service, 3 are serving on the Foreign Exchange Control Board, 2 in the Department of National Defense, and 1 with the British Purchasing Commission. The Chapter honors the memory of Flying Officer Herman Francis Grant Ede, '39, who was reported missing in the sinking of the H.M.S. Glorious during the evacuation from Narvik, Norway, on June 9, 1940. Subsequently he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross "for gallantry" in engagements with German planes on May 23, 24 and 25, 1940, during the Norwegian campaign. The Chapter also mourns the accidental death of Pilot Officer Ivan Russell Glassco, '28, at the R. C. A. F. Equipment Depot at Toronto, Ont., on January 25, 1941.

In closing it can be said that, in spite of the fact that so many members have already enlisted to serve their country, the prospect for the future has not been seriously affected and K. A. in V.M. can be expected to carry on as before.

The University of Pennsylvania

The Beta of Pennsylvania of Kappa Alpha was established at the University of Pennsylvania on April 26, 1913. Of the charter members, there were one alumnus and seventeen undergraduates as follows: William S. Carpenter (alumnus), Charles J. Cole, Edwin W. Perrott, John Moore, Lawrence L. Wolfe, H. Stewart Dunn, Harrison C. Stearn, Herbert A. Tiedemann, E. Burk Estabrook, Curtis S. Woolford, Harvey I. Thompson, John W. Dunn, Morgan W. Wickersham, William D. Riley, C. Ghiskey Watson, Raymond F. Perrott, Alexander M. Haig, and Alfred C. Arnold.

The events leading up to the establishment of the Chapter are of sufficient interest to be set forth at some length.

In the autumn of 1905, the Executive Council of the Society requested the Provost of the University, Dr. Edgar F. Smith, to select an upper-classman who might organize a group to petition the Society for a charter. The Provost accordingly selected Reid S. Dickson, 1906 Arts, who gathered together seven or eight men, all of some prominence in undergraduate affairs (among them was one of the first Rhodes Scholarship winners). They petitioned the Society, were approved by the Council, and were visited by chapter representatives. Apparently because there was doubt as to the ability of the group to maintain a continued existence, the charter was refused and the idea of a chapter at Pennsylvania abandoned for the time.

In the spring of 1908, The Philomathean Society, a literary society which has existed at Pennsylvania since 1813, produced an early English comedy, which was sufficiently successful to warrant a similar production in 1909, the members of the cast being substantially the same during both years. In May, 1909, one of their number, Arthur Hagen Miller, suggested the organization of a fraternity to several of the players. Accordingly a group of nine men was assembled, all of them members of the literary society.

The group rented a house in the autumn of 1909, and, due largely to the ability and interest of William S. Carpenter, succeeded in extending its membership and maintaining itself financially until the fall of 1912, when it had attained a secure position among fraternal organizations at the University.

In April, 1911, Carpenter chanced to become acquainted with Mrs. Arthur Burtis, of Buffalo, N. Y., daughter-in-law of Arthur Burtis, C.C. '26, and through her became interested in The Kappa Alpha Society. At his solicitation, the present Pennsylvania Chapter petitioned the Society for a charter of establishment in December, 1912, the petitioners calling themselves the Terwood Society. After approval of the petition by the Council and a visitation by chapter representatives in February, a charter was granted and on April 26, 1913, fifteen undergraduates and three alumni were initiated into the Society at Cornell and Williams. Alexander M. Haig and Alfred C. Arnold, who were unable to be present on April 26th, were initiated at Lehigh on May 8th, at which time William M. Wright, Jr., the first undergraduate to enter the new Chapter, was also initiated. On June 15th, 1913, the remaining alumni of the old organization, twelve in number, were initiated by the newly established Chapter, in the presence of some fifty visitors.

Soon after this ceremony, R. R. Benedict, C.C. '84, suggested the propriety of adding to the alumni of the Chapter the petitioners of 1906. The Executive Council offered no objection and after a long period of negotiation, six of the group were initiated in 1916, R. S. Dickson, W. G. Eager, R. C. Jones, J. W. Baker, W. C. Dickson, and T. S. Dickson.

At the time of the founding of K A. in V.P., there were not many Kap alumni in Philadelphia. No history of the Chapter would be complete, however, without suitable mention of James B. Ingham, C.G. '66. This Kap, a retired physician of distinction, at once associated himself with the new Chapter, and until his death in December, 1924, remained a beloved and intimate friend. Every class of V.P. Kaps remembers his entertaining accounts of life at Williams in the sixties, and much of our love for the Society was engendered of his stirring addresses.

The Pennsylvania Chapter began its career with certain unusual advantages and disadvantages. The former comprised the possession of a running establishment, a fairly successful alumni management of some years' duration, and a standing at the University derived from efforts of the past. The disadvantages were equally obvious. Kappa Alpha entered the University with traditions behind it demanding that the Chapter assume from its first appearance a reputable place among the best societies. The presence of numerous other chapters representing most of the best fraternities in the country, many of them with a history of twenty-five to fifty years' existence, a strong Philadelphia alumni group and an established standing in the preparatory schools of the neighborhood, made the task a difficult one.

It was further complicated by the status of rushing in the University. The first attempt to draft a rushing agreement had been made in 1911. In 1913-'14, the first year of the new Chapter, the agreement in force permitted unrestricted entertainment of freshmen until the beginning of December but forbade pledging until that time. Naturally such an arrangement militated heavily against a new chapter and it was deemed wisest to remain outside the agreement during that year. Since then, however, the Chapter has steadfastly supported a limitation of rushing activities, and the agreement now in force was drawn up by a member of the Society.

Progress continued along a satisfactory course until the entrance of the United States into the World War. The problems most sharply taxing newly established chapters, the securing of a suitable home and the establishment of a working organization, had been solved before our foundation. Efforts, therefore, were directed toward perfecting our rushing machinery and winning a proper place on the campus.

With the United States at war, the universities became modified military establishments. During the late spring and fall of 1917, many of the undergraduates enlisted and left college, and the rest became members of the local military organization. Despite the difficulties of membership work at such a time, eight men were initiated in December of 1917. By the following spring, most of the chapters at the University had ceased to function except as lodging houses for the men in training, and all of the houses were compelled to entertain groups of men outside their own membership. The Chapter succeeded in carrying on its usual affairs, however, meetings were held regularly and two new members were initiated in March, 1918.

By autumn of 1918, affairs were at their worst. No one knew how long the war would last, few undergraduates remained and the action of the university was uncertain. At this juncture, a meeting was called in October, 1918, of all Penn Kaps available. This body, composed of undergraduates, trustees and other alumni, determined to maintain the Chapter as long as possible and to continue meetings even if the university were closed. The financial maintenance of the Chapter was also guaranteed.

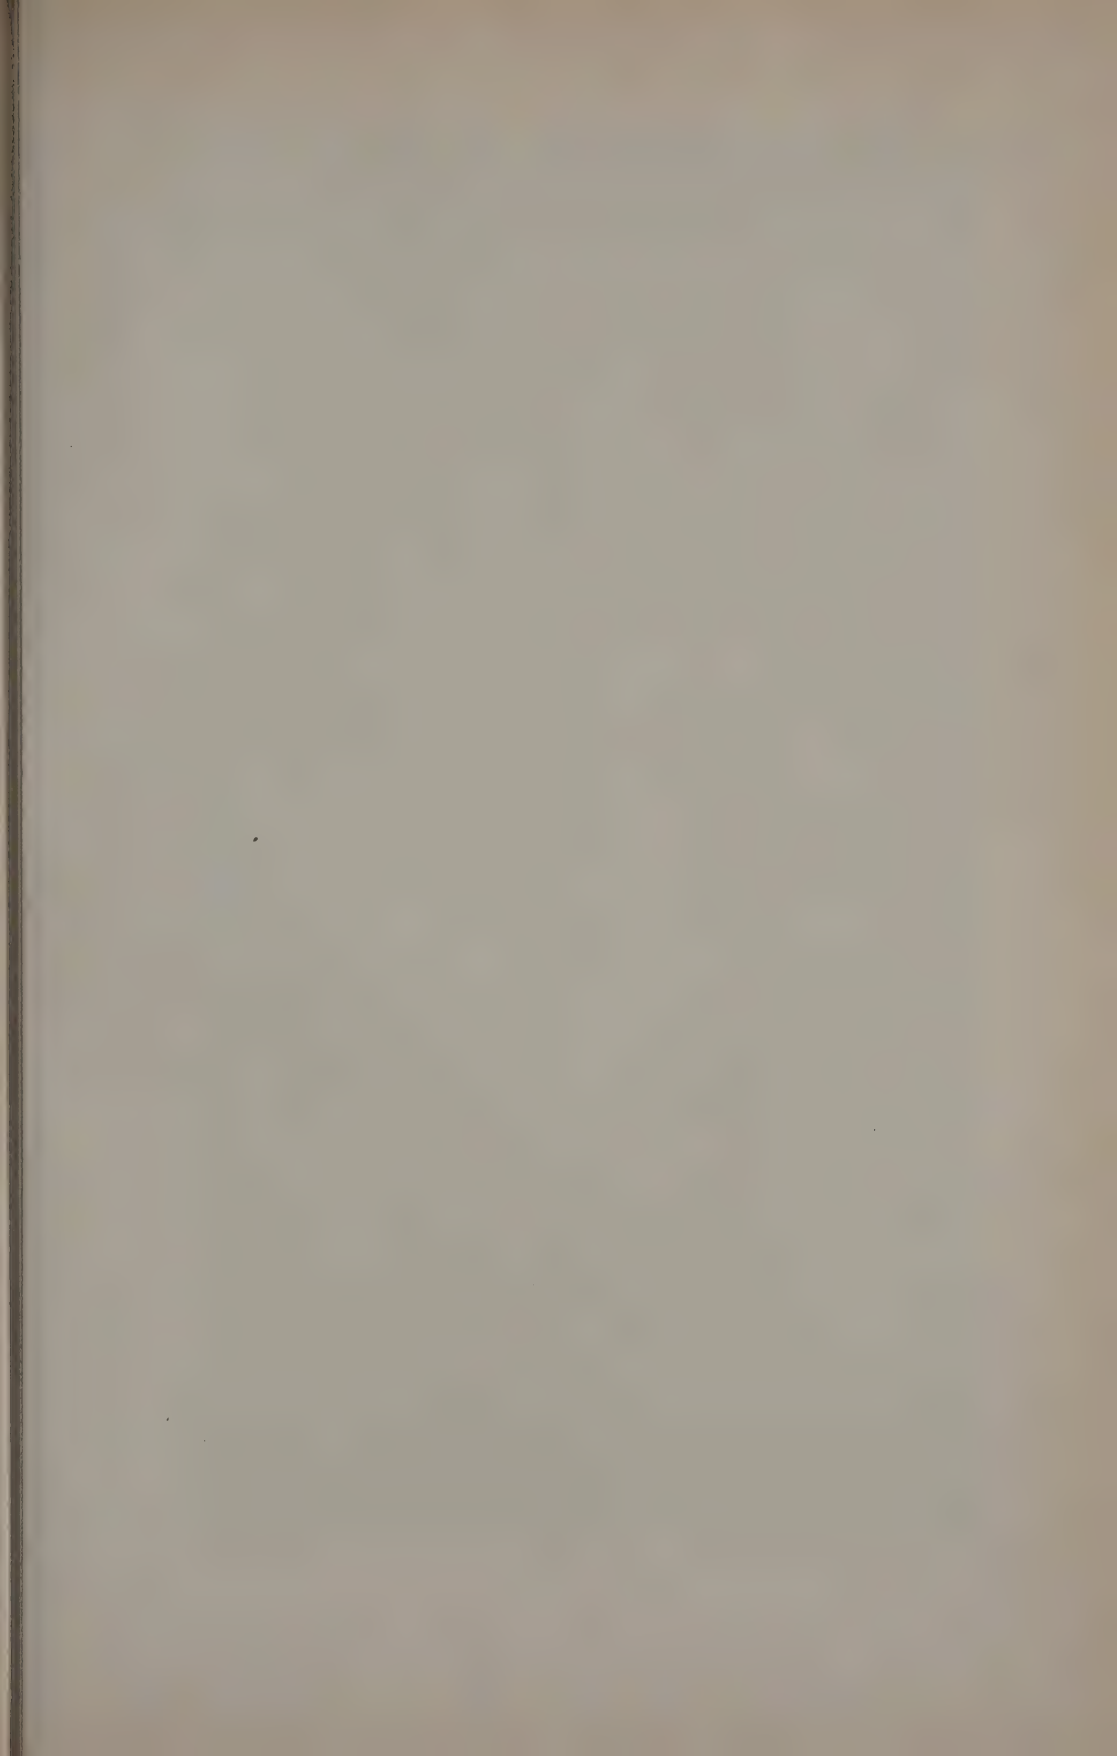

No new members were secured during the latter part of that year, but the sudden ending of the war made possible a large and enthusiastic initiation the following spring. Throughout the war, the Chapter remained alive, and continued its meetings and college activities.

The period since the war has been one of continuous growth, during which K. A. in V.P. has attained and consolidated a social position on the campus appropriate to Kap traditions. Material affairs have not progressed quite so rapidly. The general disorganization after the war and the tremendous increase in living expenses affected all the Pennsylvania chapters, most of all the newer ones. The original lodge, 3537 Locust St., is still occupied, a rented property which was rebuilt as a fraternity house and enjoys an excellent location. In 1929, with substantial financial assistance from The Kappa Alpha Society Foundation, Inc., the Lodge was extensively rehabilitated and modernized, with an entire new facade in conformity with surrounding college structures. Again, in the summer of 1940, the interior was redecorated and new furniture purchased. The alumni association is incorporated and the Chapter itself is directed by a graduate manager and a group of ten trustees of the alumni organization. To date, a total of 236 members has been initiated by the Chapter.

It would be ungracious not to acknowledge our indebtedness to the older chapters. The original establishment at Williams and Cornell commenced an intimacy which has always continued. Hobart, Toronto and Lehigh presented us with the chapter books and other essential records, including certain valuable relics of the Princeton Chapter. Our proximity to V.L. has made the chapters closely acquainted and has led to the friendliest and most helpful relations between them.

In the fifteen years since the last Record was published, there has been little change in the Chapter. The increase in alumni membership has been offset by the slowly increasing cost of Chapter maintenance and the decreasing number of well-to-do college students. There is still a great deal of work to be done for K. A. in V.P., perhaps more than for any other chapter of the Society, and once general conditions become more settled and prosperous, we believe this work can be successfully undertaken.

KAPPA ALPHA DINNER SONG

Prepared for and first sung at a meeting held on March 4, 1826

LEVI HUBBELL, C.C. 1827

Tune: Auld Lang Syne

1. Of old the wits of ge-nial heart In fes-tive con-clave joined; For
2. Am-bi-tion is a foe to rest And love's a wast-ing fire; But eat-ing doth a-lone im-part True pleas-ures to the mind.

peace and friendship rule the breast When eat-ing clogs de-sire.

CHORUS

Then let us ban-ish hence the bowl, For Bac-chus hath no part Where wit and feast-ing rule the soul, And friend-ship warms the heart.

3. Should fame or honor chill the heart
And Reason's self be blind,
Still eating hath a charming art
To soothe and calm the mind.

4. Then be the cord of Union strong
That ties our social band;
While eating doth dull life prolong
We'll pledge the heart and hand.

K.A. EVER GENIAL

ROBERT MEECH, C.G. '58

Tune: Old Dog Tray

1. Our col-lege toil is past, And here we meet at last, All—
2. And when in wed-lock's joys We kiss our wife and boys, And the care— we have ban-ished far, far a-way: With-in this calm re-treat, True lit-tle ones a-round us shall cease their mer-ry lay, The youngest on our knee Shall hearts each oth-er greet A wel-come to thy sons, K. A. swing the old Kap. Key, And be like his dad a true K. A.

a-way, a-way

Dear K. A. ev-er gen-ial, Swift-ly the mo-ments fly a-way: She is lov-ing she is kind, And no bet-ter boys you'll find Than the cho sensons of dear K. A.

SONGS OF K. A.

1. What shall we do in hours of sad - ness To
2. Friend - ship, love, af - fec - tion gath - er make those hours seem light and gay? To fill our hearts with 'Round the ech - oes of our songs, — And the ho - ly joy and glad - ness We'll sing the songs of dear K. A. mys - tic spir - it — Of K. A. to them be - longs.

They will al - ways give us pleas - ure, Ev - er drive dull care a - way.

We es - teen as price - less treas - ure All the songs of — dear K. A.

Thus we as brothers weld in concord
Closer bonds from day to day;
And neither time nor care can lessen
Int'rest in our dear K. A.

THE BONDS OF K.A.

MILTON B. DAVIS, C. H., '81

Lively: in strict time

1. There's friend-ship for you, Warm, gen - ial and true, In the
2. There's pleas- ure, there's mirth, Of joy not a dearth, In the bonds of our K. A. Come, join in our bonds of our K. A. Come, join in our song, Glad hours to pro - long, In the bonds of our K.

song, Glad hours to pro - long, In the bonds of our K.

A. K. A. In the bonds of our K. A.
A. K. A. In the bonds of our K. A.

OUR HEARTS ARE THINE, K.A.

JOHN CHARLES HAINES, C.G., 70

Tune: There's Music in the Air

Brightly

1. Our hearts are thine, K. A. — When youth's bright morn-ing beam Ir-
2. Our hearts are thine, K. A. — When man hood's mel-low beam Has rad - i - ates our course — A - down life's dim-pled stream.

warmed in-to liv - ing bloom — The buds of our youth's bright dream

Gath-ring flow-ers as we go, Joy-bells chim-ing soft and low,
When the years so twink-ling fleet Strew life's treas-ures 'round our feet,

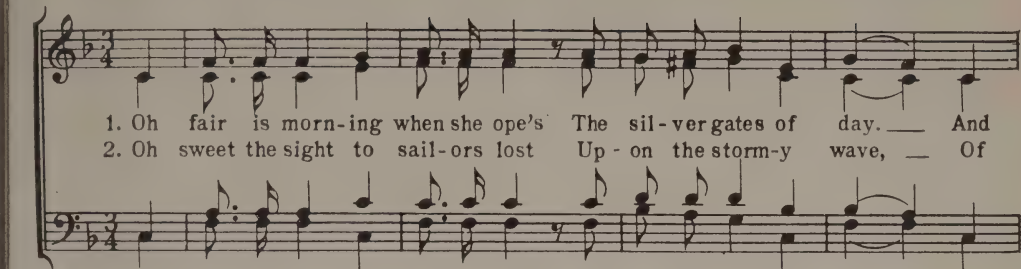

Sing we gai-ly on our way, Oh, our hearts are thine, K. A.
And rich bless-ings crown our way, Oh, our hearts are thine, K. A.

3. Our hearts are thine, K.A., when the silver cord is cleft,
And the golden bowl is broken, and the sun of our life has set.
As we sink in the arms of death with our last expiring breath,
In our dying moan we'll say, Oh; our hearts are thine K.A.

THE OLD KAP KEY

LOMON B. GRIFFIN, C.G.'73

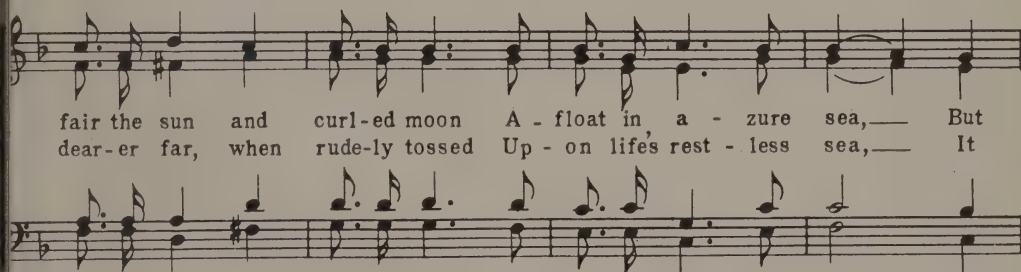

Tune: Maryland

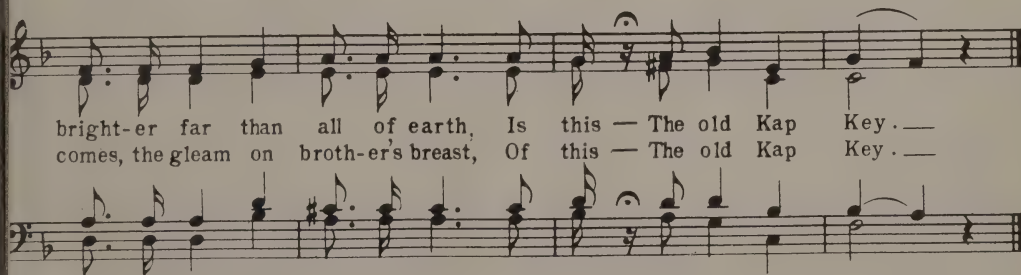

1. Oh fair is morn-ing when she ope's The sil-ver gates of day. — And
2. Oh sweet the sight to sail-ors lost Up - on the storm-y wave, — Of fair are pur - ple shad-ows shed To deck its dy - ing way. — Oh po - lar star and bea - con light, And read - y hand to save. — But fair the sun and curl-ed moon A - float in, a - zure sea, — But dear-er far, when rude-ly tossed Up - on life's rest - less sea, — It bright-er far than all of earth, Is this — The old Kap Key. — comes, the gleam on broth-er's breast, Of this — The old Kap Key. —

3

And when in other lands afar
The wandering feet may roam,
When weary hearts are thinking sad
Of happy days at home;
As moonbeams gild the mountain heights,
And ripple o'er the sea,
Lo! mirrored bright upon its breast,
It shines, "The old Kap Key."

When gently draws night's curtain 'round
The dying and the dead,
The battle o'er, the conflict won,
Then soft the dying bed;
For gleaming bright through breaking drifts,
Adown the heavens see,
The eye grows bright, the heart is light,
It is "The old Kap Key."
